WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The house will pass the soldiers' certificate loan bill this afternoon. Speaker Longworth announced to the house at noon that he will permit the measure to be brought to the floor at 3:30 p. m. under a suspension of the rules and with a vote assured after 40 minutes of debate. The measure will be sponsored by Rep. Bacharach (R) of New Jersey, one of the ranking Republicans on the ways and means committee.

Declare Passage Certain.
Longworth's determination to go through with the bill increasing the loan value of veterans' certificates to 50 per cent was disclosed after a meeting of the steering committee at which the legislative program for the remainder of the session was discussed.

With the treasury actively opposing the bonus bill and sources close to the White House hinting of a veto, passage in the house by an overwhelming majority was declared certain.

Roads to the north of the city, leading to Erie and other lake points, were somewhat icy over Sunday. Travel was much lighter than usual, although on the routes to the south travel proceeded as usual because there was little ice to make driving dangerous.

In the First Baptist church auditorium on Friday, February 20, the "World Day of Prayer" will be marked appropriately. Plans call for a program both in the morning and afternoon.

Dr. Arthur Braden, of Lexington, Kentucky, who was in the city over the week end, and is a native of this city, says that one can notice the steady development and expansion of New Castle, after being away for a time. When he first remembers the city, it was a town of about 11,000 population. Now, it is a city of 60,000 with its immediate suburban area, and there has been a remarkable change in the city in that time he says. When the Highland avenue school was built, it was away on the edge of the north hill, he recalls. New Castle has many advantages to commend it, he says.

Two automobiles carrying relatives of Irene Schroeder, gun woman, convicted of the murder of Corporal Brady Paul, came from West Virginia Sunday to the county jail to have a last talk with Irene before her case and that of Glenn Dague, her accomplice, goes before the pardon board on Wednesday, February 18.

Included in the party were John Crawford, brother of Irene, two sisters, Ruby and Martha, little Donnie, son of Irene, and other friends. The first party arrived about 10:30 a. m. and the second party about an hour later.

Sheriff Frank Johnston permitted the relatives to talk to Irene through the bars of her cell, but did not permit them to enter. The first party talked for about an hour, when the second party was admitted and carried on an extended conversation.

Seems In Good Spirits
Irene seemed to be in good spirits. No one would have judged from her demeanor, that she was in the shadow of the electric chair. The conversation was largely of a personal nature about family matters. Irene expressed the hope to her relatives that the pardon board would act favorably on her case.

Members of the party also talked to Glenn Dague, through the bars of (Continued On Page Fourteen)

Lillian Leitzel Meets Death As Result Of Fall

AS CIRCUS STAR

(International News Service)

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Feb. 16.—A headlong plunge to the floor in a music hall here Friday night during her trapeze "death whirl" resulted today in the death of Lillian Leitzel, favorite circus aerial performer in many countries.

The little "queen of the air" died in a delirium from head and spine injuries after crashing to the floor from a height of 30 feet before a horrified audience. The diminutive silken-clad figure fell upon a rubber mat, which broke the force of the fall somewhat. A broken trapeze ring was blamed for the accident.

Immediately after the fall, the little star assured friends she was not seriously hurt and protested against being taken to a hospital. As she hurried down, her shoulders were instinctively hunched in an attempt to break the fall, but physicians from the beginning predicted she would never perform under the "big top" again.

For a few hours after the accident she appeared to be improving rapidly, but a relapse suddenly set in and brain injuries shortly proved fatal. It brought to an end a career that had furnished thousands with rare thrills.

Turner Bill As Slap At

HARRISBURG, Feb. 16.—Lines are drawn in battle formation and the stage is set for another test of strength in the Pennsylvania House of Representatives tonight.

In this test, the second of the present session of the legislature, passage or defeat of the Turner resolution which places the House on record as favoring the Senate's lone probe of the Public Service Commission and paves the way for an appropriation to carry out the inquiry, will be the prize.

Last week Rep. Elwood J. Turner, of Delaware County, presented the resolution. It was immediately given two readings and then laid over for printing under the rules of the House. The sponsor will call it up for action tonight. Administration followers in the House are opposed to the measure in that its passage would have a tendency to offset another probe now being considered and which would be conducted jointly by members if the House and persons named by Governor Gifford Pinchot.

Gains Are Made
Politically, the administration opposition in the House is of the opinion that it has made some gains during the last two weeks and the Turner resolution has been framed as a medium through which the test can be made.

Two weeks ago the Moore resolution, proposing a probe of the Public Service Commission by a committee made up of members to be named by the President Pro Tem of the Senate. The speaker of the House and the Governor was passed by the House by a vote of 121 to 70, only to be bottled up later in the Senate. A family of five was made homeless, their total possessions destroyed in a devastating blaze that burned the old Oscar Lutton homestead on Savannah church, Saturday evening, with a loss of over $5,000. So complete was the destruction of the flames that members of the Mike Hicks family, occupants, were forced to borrow clothes today to go to work in New Castle.

Neighbors of the rural community are doing their best for the homeless family. A fund may be raised to help the needy family.

The story of the fire was put together today from words of neighbors who were eye witnesses to the blaze and the subsequent hardship of the Hicks family.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—After appropriating $67,000,000 for drought relief but, facing demands for more funds to aid the suffering, the Hoover administration today faced the task of enacting 10 major appropriation bills in 15 days in order to avoid a special session of the new congress, after March 4.

The drought relief question appeared settled on the surface when congress finally passed the $20,000,000 additional food loan bill, which President Hoover quickly signed. There were rumors through the minority, who opposed this measure on the ground of "inadequacy," would move to appropriate $25,000,000 more for the aid of drought sufferers too poor to secure loans under the other bills.

$67,000,000 Aid Given
Thus far, the government has appropriated $67,000,000 for the drought sufferers.

The bills are:
1. $45,000,000 for feed, seed and fertilizer loans upon crop liens, providing all other debts are waived by the farmer's creditors.
2. $2,000,000 for the purchase of medical supplies and for rural sanitation in drought stricken states.

Youngstown City Council To Probe Utility Charges

Ohio Edison Company Claims
Engle Demanded $150,-

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 16.—City council here today was making plans for a hearing for Harry Engle, street railway commissioner, following the receipt of a letter from A. C. Blinn, vice-president of the Ohio Edison Company that the commissioner had sought to collect $150,000 from the utility concern, for "services claimed to have been rendered." Engle had declared these charges false.

Council president W. L. Buchanan announced that he is determined to hold a hearing at which the Ohio Edison Company will be asked to produce evidence regarding the statements made in the letter.

Engle, in a public statement, has vigorously denied that he ever made such alleged demand upon the concern.

Dedication of St. Lucy's church, North Cedar street and Wabash avenue, for use as a Roman Catholic church, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, climaxed the efforts of the pastor, Rev. Sebastian Ippolito, and the members of his parish and provided an outstanding event in the life of the parish and the community of which it is an important part.

With perfect weather conditions and every part of the ceremony carried out in perfect order as scheduled, the use of the church was inaugurated under auspicious conditions and augurs well for the future of the parish.

Procession Starts.
Promptly at 11 o'clock the Very Rev. Herman Seidel of Beaver Falls, dean of the Catholic churches of the Lawrence-Beaver county district, and delegated by the Rt. Rev. Hugh C. Boyle, bishop of the diocese of Pittsburgh, to have charge of the ceremony, assisted by the pastor, Rev. Sebastian Ippolito, visiting priests and servers proceeded around the new parish church property, blessing the walls and the property, using holy water and prayers in keeping with the rites of the Catholic church.

When the procession had completely encircled the church property, it came to a stop in front of the entrance on North Cedar street, the Very Rev. Herman Seidel and the assisting priests reciting appropriate prayers. The pastor, Rev. Sebastian Ippolito, then opened the church doors and the procession proceeded into the new church, the cross bearer and altar boys leading with the Very Rev. Fr. Seidel and assisting priests. Rev. Sebastian Ippolito, the pastor of St. Margaret's church, and Rev. N. DeMita, pastor of St. Vitus church, following closely behind them.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 16.—A long smoldering enmity over a demotion and promotion in rank flaring into a heated quarrel; an exchange of shots, and today detective Charles H. Gross of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad is dead and Frank J. Hicks, who three years ago supplanted Gross as acting lieutenant in held for the slaying.

Three years ago Gross, then lieutenant, was reduced in rank. He was replaced by Hicks, formerly Gross' subordinate.

Saturday night, Lieutenant Hicks reported finding Gross asleep in a caboose. He was ordered to inform Gross to see his captain before reporting for duty.

Met In Station
Last night Hicks and Gross met in the Glenwood station and, according to Gross, he carried out his order. Hicks quoted as saying:

"If you've done anything to endanger my job, it will be the last thing you ever do against me."

Then, Hicks asserted, Gross whipped out his revolver and opened fire. Hicks drew his own pistol and replied.

Hicks' revolver showed evidence of having been fired six times, police said, while Gross' weapon had two exploded shells in it. Gross had been struck by five bullets. Death was instantaneous.

There were no witnesses to the shooting.

MADRID, Feb. 16.—King Alfonso XIII capitulated today to political leaders who advocate decision by the Spanish people themselves as to whether or not he shall continue to rule over them.

The King, who fought against such a concession as long as he dared, finally charged Jose Sanchez Guerra, former premier and leader of the constitutional party, to form a new government to succeed that of Premier D'Amaso Berenguer resigned.

He tendered the premiership to Guerra, realizing that by so doing he was entrusting his future to the Spanish people. He awaits their verdict with some anxiety, but he has always been a sportsman and he is taking his chances on winning, losing or drawing.

Guerra's formula for solving Spain's present unsettled political situation provides for the immediate convocation of a constituent cortes empowered to decide whether the country shall remain a monarchy or become a republic.

Powerful Support
In this formula he is supported by other powerful political leaders including Melgarejo Alvarez and Santiago Albo.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 16.—There are two "Hyman Martins"—one, "Pittsburgh Hymie," is held under a murder charge for the slaying of William E. Potter, former Cleveland councilman—but neither was implicated in Potter's murder.

This startling defense was set up in Hymie's behalf today by his counsel, Samuel S. Rosenberg, who declares the man under arrest here to be a victim of mistaken identification.

Rosenberg was enroute to Harrisburg to participate in extradition proceedings today. In his company was Hymie's "double," also named Hyman Martin—who, the attorney asserted, lived next door to the apartment house in Cleveland where Potter's body was found.

Commanders Banquet

Visitation committee of the National Commander's banquet of the American Legion to be held in the Cathedral March 11 plans a very busy week. The committee has been meeting with a wonderful reception at all points visited and pledges of attendance secured for the coming banquet have been secured by the hundreds, indicating a record attendance here on March 11.

Tuesday evening, the committee will go to Mercer, where it will be the guests of the Legion Post at that point. It is desired that a large group of the local Legionnaires make the trip to this place and all who can be expected to be at the Legion Home that evening at seven o'clock for the purpose of making the trip.

Thursday, the 19th, the committee will go to Beaver Falls to attend a meeting of the Beaver County Council of the Legion. They will be greeted on this occasion by representatives of all the posts of that county.

On Friday, the 20th, the committee goes to Warren, Ohio, where they will be guests of a big smoker under the auspices of the post at that city. Many posts will be represented among them being the posts at Niles, Kent, Ravenna and other Ohio points.

The case of the Robinson Ventilating Company of Zellenople against the Metropolitan Paving Brick company, of Bessemer which was taken up before Judge Chambers, last Thursday, was still on trial today. The case grew out of the sale of two big ventilating fans by the Zellenople Company to the Bessemer company. It is expected that it will be finished today.

The Hawk County Banner-Gazette was a weekly publication deeply concerned in the affairs of Hawk county. The Banner-Gazette at the present time was greatly interested in a campaign for certain legislation which it believed Hawk county needed. But the gaining of this legislation depended almost entirely on the control of one county board member who was bitterly against it.

The Banner-Gazette opened up an editorial campaign against the member and charged him with a desire to delay action until too late to be of any service. The Banner-Gazette proceeded with a campaign of ridicule such as Hawk county never had seen previously. First it gave the board member a sarcastic nickname and then ridiculed a personal deformity of his. The member could stand it no longer. Urged on by his family, he filed suit for libel.

8:30 p. m. Saturday evening, while the family was away in New Castle, The Bickes could not be reached today for their story of the fire.

The three children, Mike, Jr., Billy and Stanley, were at a movie in New Castle. Their parents went shopping.

When the family returned they found their former home of seven rooms reduced to shambles by fire. Neighbors were gathered about the ruins.

Fire is believed to have been caused by an overheated furnace.

The flames had made rapid progress before neighbors were aware of the fire's existence, and when finally aroused, the residents could do nothing. No calls were made to the city fire department.

A New Castle resident saw the flames from a distance and telephoned the department that there was a fire on Frank avenue. When apparatus arrived on Frank avenue firemen could find no fire, but saw flames of the Bickes house from a long distance. Central station apparatus continued to the scene, but before arriving there firemen were informed by a motorist that the Pittsburgh-Savannah road home had been burned to the ground. The city fire apparatus then returned.

Charles Bowden and John S. McKissick arrived early at the blaze, but found the interior already filled with flames and could not do anything.

On Saturday night the neighbors of the Bickes called for the destitute family. Mrs. Bickes and her son, Mike, slept at the home of the Chauncey McKissick family, nearby. Billy and Stanley and Mike Bickes, Sr. went to the Adam Lasakuka home, across the street.

The Bickes had resided in the old Lufton homestead, an old landmark in the district, for two years. When they acquired ownership, they remodeled the place, building a front parlor and making other improvements.

The home is reported to have been heavily mortgaged.

All the furnishings in the seven rooms were destroyed. The exact loss has not been determined, but it is believed to be well over $5,000.

SPANISH PEOPLE TO DECIDE UPON NEW GOVERNMENT

idea was to form a monarchical coalition government, which would have convoked parliament. The parliament would then have decided whether or not to call together a constitutional assembly to revise the Spanish constitution or draft a new one.

These efforts failed and the King finally called Guerra, who a year ago, proclaimed that he would never again serve the King.

"The King described the country's difficult situation and I therefore accepted his commission to try to form a government," declared Guerra after his interview at the Palace.

With the King's figure status clouded in uncertainty Queen Victoria was enroute back here today from London, where she has been at the sickbed of her mother, Princess Beatrice.

By the time she arrives here she may be the queen of a monarchy who is "on vacation."

If Guerra succeeds in forming his government it is practically certain he will insist upon the King going on holiday while his fate is being decided.

King Accedes.
Madrid, Feb. 16.—King Alfonso XIII bowed to the will of a majority of the country's political leaders today when he accepted the complete formula of Jose Sanchez Guerra, former premier and ex-rebel, for the solution of the country's constitutional crisis.

The formula provides immediate election of a constituent cortes, authorized to decide whether Spain shall continue to be a monarchy or become a republic.

Until this decision is made Guerra will hold practically autocratic power in Spain.

The announcement of the king's acceptance of Guerra's program did not state definitely that he will "take a vacation" in the meantime, but the program means practically that.

King of 808 Butler avenue called in that she saw a nice big round red breasted robin in her neighbors back yard this morning at 9:45 o'clock.

A sure indication of the early approach of spring is seen in the discovery made at the home of R. R. Kegarise, Euclid avenue, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Kegarise was in the act of going to the home of a neighbor, when as she stepped from the front door of her home she noticed a small bird's egg crushed and broken on the step in front of the door.

Investigation was immediately made above the front door and in a nest which is maintained there every year presumably by the same robins were found three other eggs.

This is the earliest time in several years that the nest has been occupied and the belief is that it indicates that the robins inhabiting the nest are convinced that spring will soon be here and have already started to raise their young.

Ralph Bolsinger, president of the New Castle Auto Club, another local man who has his initials on his automobile license. Mr. Bolsinger's number is RB6.

Speaking about auto licenses, Pa. News observed a coupe this morning which had both a Pennsylvania and Ohio license. The owner was evidently an honest man. Quite a few instances have come to light of Pennsylvania motorists claiming residence in Ohio and getting their license tags there, where they are cheaper than in this state.

A good many states are making it easy for hit-skip drivers. They are the ones who fail to stop and render assistance after an accident. Many states seemingly have cut down on the size of the license tags this year, and if a motorist were traveling at any rate of speed, it would be next to impossible to secure the number. Pa. News saw a Kansas license this morning, which is only about two inches in width, and the numbers are small in size. Pennsylvania tags are among the most distinctive of any issued by the state, and when not covered with dirt like many of them are now, can be easily read.

STAR LORE

A READER WANTS TO KNOW
By Arthur DeV. Carpenter
P. S. Scranton, Pa., I wish you would tell us the name etc., of a very large star now visible in the eastern sky in the morning.

That brilliant celestial object seen in the eastern sky before sunrise is the planet Venus, which, when visible, appears brighter than any other. The explanation for its shining with unusual brightness is that Venus is surrounded by a cloudy atmosphere. Clouds have a way of reflecting sunshine in a most brilliant manner. The saying: "Every cloud has a silver lining" is a true one. Our earth clouds often display bright silver edges. We see Venus' clouds from the silver side. Venus will be morning star until September.

buying food, clothing and medicine. One other relief measure, an appropriation of $35,000,000 to be used as a feed and fertilizer loan revolving fund in southeastern states, is pending in another appropriation bill. There was every indication this would be enacted finally but that the Capper plan for distributing 20,000,000 bushels of wheat, out of the store now held by the Federal Farm Board, would be abandoned. The Capper plan was opposed by the farm board itself as likely to smash wheat prices.

Objections Raised
A senate bloc, headed by Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, was far from satisfied with this program. They insisted the common farmer, lacking crops and other security, would be "left to die" when congress adjourned. They declared the Red Cross would abandon these helpless citizens, and even now contemplated abandoning its relief activities in Arkansas and other drought centers.

"How can congress adjourn without providing some relief for the starving creature, whose wife and children are sick from lack of proper food and medical attention, who has no security for a federal loan," demanded Borah. "Yet 'ha' is what we contemplate. Congress is going to turn its back on dying women and children."

Motorists Report Several Accidents

Several Cars Are Damaged In The Accidents Reported
To Police

P. J. McDowell, 306 Northview avenue, reported to the police Sunday that he was en route north on North Liberty street between Swansea avenue and Mahoning avenue, when a small boy named Edmond Mrozek, aged eight, of Ashland avenue, ran out of a store on the east side of Liberty street. Seeing the approaching machine of Mr. McDowell, the boy became frightened and fell to the ground. The machine did not touch him. He was uninjured, but Mr. McDowell took him to his mother.

William H. Kuhn of Allegheny county, Pa., reported Sunday that he was en route east on Grant street at Jefferson street, with Andrew Lukash of Patton, Cambria county, Pa., following behind him. He stopped at the main thoroughfare and Mr. Lukash did not stop and his car hit and damaged the Kuhn car.

Charles Rodgers of 409 Garfield avenue was en route Saturday north on Highland avenue at Garfield avenue with Hugh Miller of 309 Hazlecroft avenue behind him. Mr. Rodgers turned to the right onto Garfield avenue and Miller, thinking that Rodgers was going to turn to the left, turned out to go around and the machines came together. Both were damaged.

Mrs. A. W. Harbison of 111 East street was en route east on East Falls street at North Mill street Saturday, and before crossing saw no machines. When she was about the center of North Mill street the car of Samuel Riear of East Washington street came north on Mill street and the Riear machine caught the right front fender of the

G. B. Tiel of 1510 Erie street, Youngstown, O., was en route west on Washington street at Mercer street Saturday when a car bearing Pennsylvania license 42G31 hit the rear of his machine and his car in turn hit the car ahead of him. Slight damage was done to the three cars and the driver of Pennsylvania license 42G31 was hurt.

RUTH BERGLAND WEDS HORACE W. SHOTTS

A beautiful wedding was solemnized at 4:30 this afternoon when Ruth Bergland, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Axel N. Bergland, of Laurel boulevard, became the bride of Horace W. Shotts, of Youngstown, Ohio, son of Mrs. John Cook of Sharon.

To strains of the Lohengrin wedding chorus played by Mary Lou Brahm of Butler, the bridal party entered the spacious living room where the bride was given away by her father, A. N. Bergland.

The nuptial were read by the Rev. C. J. Williamson, D. D., pastor of the Highland United Presbyterian church, who officiated with the single ring ceremony, before an embankment of palms, ferns and flowers, with only members of the immediate families as witnesses.

Miss Brahm also rendered soft notes of "To A Wild Rose" and "I Love You Truly" during the reading of the ceremony.

The bride was lovely in a gown of antique ivory crepe le zed made with tight fitting waist, long sleeves and full skirt of floor length, trimmed with alcon lace. She carried an arm cluster of dark pink roses. She had accessories to match her attire in every detail.

Hazel, a sister of the bride, was chosen as maid of honor. She was attired in net of a very light shade of blue, fashioned on the same lines with matching accessories. Her bouquet was of pink roses and snapdragons.

Edward Kinney, of Sharon, and a close friend of the groom, served as best man.

Following the congratulatory period, a wedding dinner was served in the dining room, which was prettily decorated in keeping with the wedding appointments. The bridal table seating twelve guests, was attractively set with a large heart shaped wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, gracing the center.

Mrs. Shotts is a graduate of the New Castle Senior High School, class of '24 and of the New Castle Business College. For the past three years she has been employed as private secretary to Judges R. L. Hildebrand and J. A. Chambers.

Mr. Shotts graduated with the class of '24 at the Sharon High School and is affiliated with the Colonial Business Company of Pittsburgh, where he holds a responsible position with the Youngstown branch office.

The young couple left immediately after dinner by motor for an extended trip to New York, Baltimore, Washington, D. C., and other places of interest, and after March first, will be at home to their friends in their newly furnished apartment at 1911 Kensington avenue, Youngstown, Ohio.

Butler Girls

The Butler Girls will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Heber Anderson on Cunningham avenue.

CHURCH WEDDING IS PRETTY EVENT

An elaborate church wedding, and one of interest to many was performed at 10 o'clock this morning in St. Vitus church when Miss Clara DeLillo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeLillo, of Laurel Boulevard, became the bride of Angelo J. Casaccia, of this city.

Solemn High Mass was celebrated before the church altar which was beautifully embanked with palms, ferns and selected Spring flowers, making a most attractive setting.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, Joseph DeLillo, was becomingly gowned in white satin, made ankle length with long fitted sleeves, trimmed with Spanish lace. She wore a double veil of tulle edged with lace matching the gown, with cap caught on each side with clusters of orange blossoms.

She carried an arm bouquet of Calla lilies of the large variety, tied with a huge bow of white netting. Miss Ida Casaccia, sister of the groom, as maid of honor was lovely in a gown of coral satin made on Grecian lines without sleeves and elbow length egg-shell gloves and accessories to match. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and Snap Dragons tied with pink netting.

Attorney Virgil Caputo of Pittsburgh an intimate friend and classmate of the groom, served as best man.

Wedding music was furnished by the choir of St. Vitus church which consisted of selections speaking as they do of love, life and happiness. Frank DeLillo rendered the "Ave Maria" and other solos appropriate to the occasion.

A wedding breakfast was served in the spacious dining room of The Castleton at tables beautifully decorated with vases of spring flowers, and bouquets of the same perfectly arranged, completed the attractive setting which was in keeping with the wedding appointments. Covers were laid for 150 guests.

During the afternoon hours, Mr. and Mrs. Casaccia received guests in the lounge room of the hotel, and from 8 until 12 o'clock in the evening dancing in the ball room was enjoyed. Refreshments were served throughout the evening.

Guests were present from Punxsutawney, Erie, Pittsburgh, New York, Brooklyn, N. Y., Indiana, Baltimore, Md., Cleveland, O., Elwood City, Youngstown, O., Detroit, Mich. and Coraopolis.

The bride is a graduate of New Castle Senior High school class of '21 and is a member of the Business and Professional Woman's Clubs of this city. For the past nine years, she has been affiliated in the office of the Julian-Goldman People's store here.

The groom, also a graduate of the local Senior High School in the class of 1920, graduated with the A. G. degree of the University of Pittsburgh in '24 and is a graduate of Pitt Law School with the L. L. D. degree.

Mr. and Mrs. Casaccia will leave shortly after midnight for a wedding trip to New York, Washington, D. C., Philadelphia and Baltimore, Md., and upon their return will reside at their newly built and furnished home at 207 West Leasure avenue.

Many social events have been given in honor of the bride and groom and an enormous collection of beautiful and useful gifts for their new home have been received testifying to the affection and esteem of which they are held.

For traveling, the bride wore a smart green flannel coat with hat, dress and accessories to match.

Married Saturday

A quiet wedding ceremony was performed Saturday, February 14 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry White of Hartland street, Clifton Flats, when Henry W. Zimmerman, son of Sylvester and Jennie Caster of Farmdale, O., were united in marriage by Justice of the Peace C. P. Davis.

The couple were unattended, and will reside in Youngstown, O.

Honors For Local Girl

FLORENCE MAE THOMAS

Florence Mae, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Thomas, Delaware avenue, was graduated from the music department of the New York University after completing a four-year course and receiving her degree of B. S. in music.

Miss Thomas was graduated with honors, being one of the youngest members of the class, as well as having done excellent work during her course. The past semester she was selected to teach sight reading at the university.

She was graduated from the New Castle high school in the class of 1927 and played the violin in the high school while a student there. For the past four years she has played the violin in the New York university orchestra under the noted conductor, John Warren Erb.

Miss Thomas has accepted a position as supervisor of public school music at Passaic, N. J., and has under her supervision 110 teachers.

JUNIOR HADASSAH WILL MEET TUESDAY

On Tuesday evening, the Junior Hadassah will gather at the Beth Shalom Center on Boyles avenue at 8 o'clock for a meeting of importance.

As their guest speaker, they will have Mrs. Freda Shifman, past president of the Western and Eastern Ohio Division of Junior Hadassah. Mrs. Shifman is the possessor of a pleasing personality, and will have a message worthwhile.

Surprise Luncheon

Friday afternoon the Legion Home was the scene of much merrymaking when the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, entertained a surprise one o'clock luncheon in honor of Mrs. Ethel Bell and Mrs. Evelyn Woods, the occasion being their birth anniversaries.

Covers were laid for 33 guests at tables prettily arranged in a color scheme of red and white, where a delicious menu was served at one o'clock. A huge bouquet of red American Beauty roses formed the attractive centerpiece.

At the close of the feature the hours were spent informally with music and dancing and at a suitable time the honor guests were presented with a beautiful gift in behalf of the ladies present to remind them of their birth anniversary.

Y. W. C. Club Meets.

Members of the Y. W. C. Club were delightfully entertained Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Earl White on Bonzo street. Cards were in play, and at the close of the game, success trophies were given to Mrs. James Edgington who was a special guest, Charles Richardson and Mrs. De Roy Parker.

The hostess served a delectable lunch at a late hour, assisted by Mrs. Parker. The small tables were used for serving, which were prettily decorated in tones of red and white, in keeping with the season. Mrs. Charles Richardson of Vogan street, will entertain in two weeks.

Missionary Meeting

Mrs. Edward Nolan, 419 Cascade street, received members of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Croton Avenue Methodist church in her home Friday evening for the regular monthly session.

Mrs. Earl Cook presided at the business session and Mrs. J. Twaddle has the lesson. Eye Nicklin pleased with a delightful reading.

Valentine favors and appointments were used when the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ida White, served refreshments.

Birthday Party

The fifth birthday of George, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jenkins, 837 Lathrop street, was most fittingly observed Saturday afternoon when the little fellow's mother entertained a group of 18 youngsters in honor of the event. George was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

The afternoon hours were spent at games and amusements of various kinds and at 4 o'clock Mrs. Ed. Clark assisted the hostess in serving a lunch to the children; the dainty table appointments and favors being carried out in Valentine suggestions.

Marriage Announcement.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the trouble.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to comb or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it; then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you may have. This simple remedy never fails.

LOOKING OVER TROOP F

NEW CASTLE is honored in having as visitors today the high officers of the 103rd Cavalry, P. N. G., for the purpose of the annual federal inspection of Troop F.

To Colonel Arthur C. Colahan, Colonel Zierdl, Major Samuel B. Wolfe, and Captain Tallant, New Castle extends its greetings.

Undoubtedly, the inspecting officers will find much to commend and probably much to recommend in the day of further improvement.

In the recommendation for improvement we trust the inspecting officers will not fail to take cognizance of totally inadequate facilities available, and the need for further recognition of our troop in the matter of a permanent armory building.

One thing our guests cannot fail to see, is the whole-hearted support Troop F now and will continue to receive in its development into "The Ideal Troop".

Citizens of this community would find much to inform and interest them, should they visit the Armory this evening.

FANS DEMAND ACTION

Do the moguls of major league baseball really know their own game? Do they know its psychology, and are they fully conversant with the transformation that has taken place in the stands and bleachers? If they do they are deliberately acting contrary to their interests.

The action of the American League in selecting a ball with thicker stitches for the 1931 season and of the National League in adopting a ball with a thicker cover and heavier stitches would have been good strategy from the standpoint of the "gate" 10 years ago, but it threatens the popular appeal of baseball today.

Pitchers' duels provided the diamond with action and drama a decade ago, but the fans of that day have given way to a new generation which demands the spectacular in the way of home-runs and full bases. A 1 to 0 score, once a thriller, is now reported a "dull and sluggish game".

There is still honor and acclaim for the no-hit, no-run pitcher, but his support must come in the form of slugging rallies if the fans are to go home satisfied.

Who were the major attractions last season, the pitchers or Ruth, Gehrig, Wilson and Foxx? Where was the interest, in the pitching records or in the batting and home-run records?

But the fans are not bowed down by the action of the baseball magnets. They defy them to invent a ball with which their idols at the plate cannot connect.

COMING DEMOCRATIC SESSION

Chairman Raskob's call for a meeting of the Democratic National Committee on March 5 has aroused as much curiosity as the mythical Pandora's box. Nor is the interest a one-party matter.

Has he called the meeting for the purpose of resigning or refusing to resign? That question is uppermost because of recent criticisms based on the circumstance which gives him, in effect, a mortgage on the Democratic party because of the unpaid loans made by him to the party in 1928.

There is another school of political observers whose members see in the call a move by the chairman to force a showdown on the prohibition question. Although the party went wet in 1928 it is far from united on this issue today. If one is to take seriously the threats of Democratic dry leaders to bolt the party in 1932 if the ticket and platform are wet.

One of the uncertainties of the situation is the business of evolving some means of paying the debts of the 1928 campaign. Nothing is more depressing to a political party confronting a hard national campaign than a heavy debt, though the creditors be the very acme of patience.

Chairman Raskob has a bitter disappointment in store for him if he imagines that the fifth of March will witness the drawing up of a statement of party principles to guide the Democratic members of the next congress, which will be about evenly divided, and the Democratic national convention in 1932. They had their chance during the present congress, but the only "principle" they could muster between them was one of defeatism.

MR. HOOVER SIGNS THE WAGNER BILL

President Hoover, in signing the Wagner bill which provides for advance planning of public works in order to meet effectively periods of business depression, takes occasion to congratulate Senator Wagner and Representative Graham for the part they played in "working out this admirable measure." The president says that it is not a cure for business slumps, but that it "will afford better organization for relief in future depressions." He also thanks Mr. Edward Eyre Hunt of the Department of Commerce and Mr. Otter Mallory of Harrisburg, who first advanced this idea at the Unemployment Conference in 1921. The principles involved were urged upon congress from time to time; but it was not until the existing decline in industry came that the measure was enacted into law.

Under the law there is created a Federal Employment Stabilization Board composed of four members of the cabinet. This board is to be a permanent instrument of the government "whose function it will be to adjust and time the huge quantity of federal construction in order to provide employment and purchasing power on a large scale when private industry is slack. Every department engaged in any construction must prepare and always keep in readiness plans covering six years in the future." The duty of the members of the board is to watch the volume of private and public construction, the index of employment and other statistics. Whenever, in its judgement, a depression is imminent, it will suggest to the president that public works should be expanded.

This is highly interesting. The task will be exacting. The work of keeping statistics will have to be done with great care, and even then it will take the best kind of good judgment to predict what the future is to be in building or in other lines of activity. Senator Wagner is so impressed with the value of this new agency that he insists similar legislation should be enacted in every state and municipal government.

Only time will prove the real value of this legislation warns the Philadelphia Inquirer. It is assuredly a move in the right direction. It should be helpful; but as the president warns, it must not be taken as a cure-all. The new bureau will be under the direction of the secretary of commerce, thus increased the importance of a department of the government which has steadily grown in power and usefulness since Mr. Hoover became its head.

"Yes," blushed Daniel.

"Who was she?"

Daniel hesitated, then blurted out, "I thought it was Rosie Haven, but when we got to the turn of the street, she went into Mary Bates' house."

"But couldn't you have found out by her voice?"

"Neither of us said a word," Daniel stammered.

"Why not call it 'Home'?" she asked after a long, lingering look.

"Home?" inquired the artist.

"Why call it 'Home'?"

"Because," she answered meekly, "there is no place like it."

FATHERS ARE SO PATIENT When I try to explain to sleepy Jane why six pretty red apples must of necessity cost 30 cents if one of them costs a nickel and Janet absolutely can not see thru it, dad throws his paper down and growls, "What'll he do then? Learn 'em in school nowadays, anyhow?"

Then if I ask Janet to explain the problem to me she is so frustrated by dad's incensed glare she stammers out, "If six apples cost 5 cents, one apple will cost six times five, which is 30 cents."

"Listen to me," dad pounds the table and gives a disgusted snort. "How many fingers am I holding up?"

"One," falters Janet.

"Gimme your pencil—now here are five pennies," drawing some rings on an old envelope. "Five pennies, understand? Now how many apples did I hold up?"

Janet is silent, being under the impression it was a finger, not an apple at all he had shown her.

"You haven't forgotten 'em already, have you? Now if this one apple," wriggling his forefinger at her, "costs these five pennies"—tapping at the counterfeit paper pennies—"what will six apples cost?"

Deadly silence greets this all-important question.

"Why, can't you see thru that? What's a quarter and a nickel?"

"Thirty cents," faintly guesses Janet.

"See? That's all there is to it. Easier than getting down off a duck's back. I was the 'original snake's hips' in arithmetic before I was your age," concludes dad, picking up the evening paper again.

Then I have to begin all over again with my explanation.

Now tell me, how men get that way?

It seems to be the rule that a man who talks too much about his religion feels righteous enough without living it.

How to dispose of broken needles, rusty pins, etc., so little hands or feet are not hurt by them is a problem I solved by tying a strong cord around the neck of a bottle and hanging it in a convenient place without the cork. Any small article, a broken needle or sharp little wire which might cause trouble, we at once drop into this bottle. If it gets full, we bury it in the ground and hang up another one.

Poultry experts declare it impossible for the coin to have been laid within the egg, yet when Miss Swan broke it into the frying pan out dropped the quarter. It is easy to deceive the eye. Any slight-of-hand performer can do it. A possible explanation is that the coin only appeared to drop out of the egg shell and might have dropped from Miss Swan's sleeve. MEN WORK LONGER THAN WOMEN

The saying "A man works from sun to sun but woman's work is never done," is disproved by the National Bureau of Economic Research. Its survey shows the hired girl on the farm puts from 1 to 5 hours less time per week than does the hired man working by the month. Also the girl employed by the day works about one-sixth less time than the male day-worker. Our maxims and adages are not keeping step with the times.

It works itself to death. It brings in honey all day and then works all night packing it in the comb.

I'll tell you why I said I didn't like you—and people asked me why that was, because really you're a very fine fellow. They told me how square you are, the things you've done, the things you've said, and they pressed me to explain the secret of my dislike.

I told them a few things—You'd said this and you'd done that. You quarreled with my friend, you had ridiculous theories, you'd bored me once, contradicted me sharply on another occasion, passed me without saying hello—things like that. I hid my real reason, kept it securely locked away, didn't tell them that. But I'll tell you.

I dislike you because you're too much like me. I've known you a long time and I think I know you as you know myself. I've been noticing you. You're selfish! Not in big things, but in little things that most of your friends don't notice at all.

You're vain! Don't tell me it isn't true. I've seen you flush and stutter and stammering defend yourself against little criticisms and be disturbed for hours because of something someone had said.

And you haven't any sense of humor. Oh, I know people say you have, but I know better. You make jokes, you smile, you laugh, but I haven't heard you laugh at yourself and that's the real test of that magical possession. Don't deny these charges to me. They're true and you know they're true and they are why I don't like you.

You are too much like me that I can't like you. I ought to like you because you are so much like me? Oh, no! It doesn't work that way at all. We like the people who are not like us, we dislike those others who have the same vanities, the same small vices that torture us continually. So you mirror me.

And instead of reproaching myself, I ease my soul by disliking you.

It's true, you know it's true, and it'll do you no good to deny it. And you needn't say that you like me even if I don't like you—because that would be a Whopper.

We don't like people who don't like us and people who have the same vices of which we are ashamed are a living reproach—and I wish you lived somewhere else, where I would not see you so often. I was never much of an explorer; couldn't you move to the South Pole?

Young Reform For Banking Arouses National Interest

Some Believe Unified System Instead Of Rivalry Between Federal And State Institutions Would Be Beneficial In Commercial Transactions

Possibilities of improved banking for the country are seen by some newspapers in the suggestion of Owen D. Young that commercial transactions be centralized in the Federal Reserve system, leaving fiduciary and savings fields to the state banks. Comments indicate a belief that uniform standards would be in the interest of greater stability.

"There is bound to be controversy whether the independence of state banking should be destroyed," says the HARTFORD TIMES, "but there will be no disagreement that safe and conservative banking should be universally established by law as far as can operate to such effect. Responsibility is on the states to better meet their duties in that respect. This is manifest in Connecticut, the legislature of which is now moving to procure reformation in the light of recent deplorable lessons which have exhibited precisely the evils which Mr. Young has emphasized. Other state legislatures may do the same kind of thing if they will. If it were done the nation's banking system would be infinitely strengthened through removal of a class of competition which has been injurious to both the local and national financial structures."

As to the question of "forcing the state banks into the Federal Reserve system," the YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR recalls that others who have given their views had deplored the present competition between state and national banks and the trail of bank failures which this competition has brought. "The Vindicator adds: 'Particularly during the depression, five out of every six bank failures have been of state banks to which the 'national' unified control which Mr. Young advocated does not extend. Most Americans will agree with him that it certainly is a great reflection on the American people that they cannot get a banking system in hand which will prevent such awful tragedies as we have witnessed in the last ten years.'

A warning that comes from the RICHMOND NEWS LEADER is that the proposal "must not be misread as an argument that all banks outside the Federal Reserve system are unsound." That paper maintains that "honest, intelligent management and rigid state examination of banks under conservative banking laws, give ample security to any depositor." The News Leader continues: "The city is that the states which have stiff banking acts of their own should fall into discredit because a few states are shamelessly lax in their requirements. Better state laws, enacted by the legislatures at the demand of the depositors, and enforced by competent, non-partisan officials, are almost as good insurance for the depositor as membership in the federal reserve system. The figures will bear this out. In each of 21 of the 48 states less than ten banks failed during the critical year 1930; and in ten of these states, no state bank, or only one, at most, was forced to suspend. On the other hand, in Illinois, 23 banks associated with federal reserve system (so-called member banks) had to close their doors last year. In Iowa and Arkansas the number of closing member-banks was 15 each, and in Texas it was 16. In the country as a whole, six non-member banks suspended for every member bank, but the total deposits of suspending non-member banks were only 30 per cent greater than those of the suspending member-banks. Of the 1,138 non-member banks that closed temporarily or permanently in 1930, a total of 625 or more than half the whole, were located in the six states of Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri and North Carolina."

"It may be argued," comments the CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER, "that Young's program of bank reorganization is unnecessarily radical; that other restrictions and regulations may be imposed that will adequately protect the bank depositor. But anything short of a complete unification of our banking resources in the Federal Reserve will leave the banking system considerably short of its greatest potential strength. As long as banks in the same community are subject to different codes of regulation the process of parrying for advantage which has been under way ever since the national banking act was passed will continue. And every time the bars are let down either by the federal government or by any one of the states in order to make competitive conditions more favorable the opportunity of deviating from sound banking practice will be broadened. After the events of the last year or so, we may well give serious consideration to measures designed to strengthen our entire banking structure."

The proposal that all commercial banking be nationalized, leaving banks and non-commercial trust company activities to the states," according to the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, "is destined to beget controversy and arouse opposition. Nevertheless it looks in the right direction. A nation of the financial commercial and industrial importance of the United States cannot continue to work with 49 banking systems, in which there are nearly 25,000 banks, but only 7,000 under national control. Under such conditions, Mr. Young rightly insists, it is not possible to develop a sound banking system for the country as a whole. That requires central supervision and fixed responsibility.  Seriously put forward by a man whose ability both the nation and the world have gaged, the Young program is one to which the country should give serious attention. It strikes at the root of a condition which unquestionably played a part in the creation of present trouble. It proposes, in its main planks, corrections which should help to avoid the recurrence of those troubles."

"Mr. Young thinks it a reflection on the American people," observes the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, "that they cannot get a banking system in hand that will prevent 'such awful tragedies' as have been witnessed in the past ten years. Suggestions of the kind indicate the extent to which the mind of the financiers is centered around recent events, to decide means by which the breaking of banks might be checked, and it is significant that to able a financier as Mr. Young can find no remedy outside that of stricter laws and greater authority to enforce sound banking systems in all institutions. Mr. Young had a number of other recommendations, but he laid greater emphasis on establishment of conditions that would safeguard depositors and stockholders from repetition of these 'tragedies'."

"The objection can be made that Mr. Young's proposal would mean further interference of government with private business," says the LITTLE ROCK ARKANSAS DEMOCRAT, "but coming from such a man, it can not be dismissed lightly." The MILWAUKEE SENTINEL asks "how all the banks of deposit would be brought under federal control," adding: "We fear another constitutional amendment." As to "impairment of the rights of the sovereign states," that paper holds that "the obvious reply is that the states are giving up their sovereignty in every direction and in some instances, as in Arkansas and other states now crying for drought relief, have come to the place where they are financially unable to take care of their own, with their credit and resources exhausted."

"Whether nationalizing all the commercial banking institutions would result in better banking, as Young believes, advises the HUMBOLDT TIMES, "the bankers of the nation should be able to determine, and if

GATHERING HONORS BIRTH ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. Edward Chapman entertained at a surprise gathering Saturday evening in honor of Clair Montgomery to honor his birth anniversary, at the home of Mrs. L. A. Chapman on Hillcrest avenue.

Bridge and bingo formed the main entertainment and those successful in winning card prizes were Norris Teets and Ben Prosser, while the bingo favors were given to Mrs. Teets and Samuel Frank. A delicious lunch served at a late hour was enjoyed at the small tables arranged in colorful hues in keeping with the season. Mrs. Chapman was assisted with the menu by Mrs. Ella Moore, Mrs. Alice Montgomery, Miss Betty Rodenbaugh and Mrs. Ned Chapman.

The guest of honor was presented with a handsome gift in behalf of the guests in an appropriate manner when the evening was at its height.

Special guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Montgomery and Mr. Ailshouse of Falls Creek.

Coo-Coo Club

The Coo-Coo Club met at the home of Mrs. Mayne Ryan, West North street Friday for their regular meeting with eight members in attendance. Mrs. Grace Primavene and Mrs. Harriett Ketzler were special guests.

Mrs. Mary Gilkey presided over the short business session when matters of a routine nature were taken up.

Later the hours were spent with Hokusai prizes going to Mrs. Evelyn Patterson and Mrs. Emma Bobosky. Much merriment was derived from the Valentine box from which each drew a "comic" Valentine.

At a selected hour the hostess assisted by Mrs. McKinley Shaffer and Mrs. Mary Gilkey served a delicious repast.

The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Helen Boehm of the Butler Road Friday, February 27.

Valentine Party

Miss Mary Patterson of West Washington street charmingly entertained a group of friends in her home Thursday evening at a Valentine party.

Games and dancing were the main diversions of the evening. At a late hour a delicious lunch was served by the hostess' mother. The tables were prettily arranged with novelties suggesting the present season. St. Valentine, and place cards expressed the same tones.

Duke Of Abruzzi Society Holds Annual Banquet

Largely Attended And An Interesting Program Is Carried Out

First annual banquet of the Duke of Abruzzi Society was held Sunday evening in the hall of the society on Croton avenue, and was very largely attended. A most interesting program was carried out.

At the banquet, the first held since its organization seven years ago by Donato Prioletti and Frank Casimeri, plans were announced for the construction of a new hall. The plans for the building have been completed and it will be constructed this summer, if business conditions improve.

A fine program of music was presented under the supervision of Peter J. Iodice, assisted by Copple Brothers on the accordion and mandolin, Danny Casella, on the violin. Mr. Iodice played on the guitar.

Songs were rendered by Miss Minnie Schettino of Youngstown, one of the most popular singers of that city. She rendered the Duke of Abruzzi song, "O Solo Mio. O Sweet Mysteries of Life, and When Your Hair Has Turned to Silver. Miss Schettino and Frank DeLillo rendered the following duet numbers:

Just a Gigolo, Kiss Me Again and La Rosita. A vocal trio "Your The One I Care For" was rendered by Frank DeLillo, T. Sarento and Andy Di Lorenzo.

Addresses were rendered by Angelo Fiala, Frank Casimeri and Joseph Pagley. P. P. Capitola was toastmaster of the occasion and performed this duty in a pleasing and effective manner.

The banquet, a most elaborate affair was served by the following young ladies, the Misses Clara, Ida, and Jenrosa Prioletti, Rose and Marie Pavia, Inez Rubies, Anna Caponi, Anna Gianoni, and Lena Malis.

MAN FINED FOR HAVING SOME WINE

As Detective John Young and Officer John Moore were returning from a call Saturday night, they saw Clarence Gaglian act in a suspicious manner at East North streets. They saw him put something in a nearby car and in investigation found a half gallon glass container filled with wine. Gaglian admitted that it belonged to him and he was taken to the police station. He was assessed a fine of $25 by the mayor.

Dr. Myers Thanks Correspondents For Confidence

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

You little know how much you have helped me by the hundreds of letters you have written me, by your words of encouragement, and the confidence you express in writing me for advice. I am particularly pleased by the scores which write me of specific problems which my column had helped to solve. Every letter asking for a personal counsel which I have received has been answered, although I sometimes have to be a little late. Please remember that with the enormous number, it is not easy to be prompt always, and that the demand upon me for speaking engagements in nearly every state keeps me away from my mail often for several days at a stretch. You will not expect a reply of course, unless you enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. I have never yet received a letter not legibly written. Many are typed, many in bold, beautiful script, and a goodly number with business or professional letter heads; a few are written by pencil. All are treated with equal consideration, I assure you. Just write me when you feel like doing so. Every problem is important.

A good many letters come from my friends on the farm. You should know that I was once a dirt farmer, too; also a country school teacher. Some of you read the Farmer's Wife.

It soon will carry a series of my articles on family relations. I hear from a number of preachers and directors of religious education. They will also find an occasional article of mine in some of the religious journals and, from time to time, I shall have more to say to them in these columns.

Always glad to hear from fellow teachers, many of whom have run across my frequent articles in educational journals, school textbooks for children, and professional books for teachers. Regularly, I write for high school teachers, and cannot resist from discussing school-home problems in this column. Since I speak before a good many groups of teachers and parents a year, I meet many of my readers face to face, particularly at state conventions.

Perhaps the largest single group who write me are members of the P. T. A., who know me through my United States bureau of education letters to parents, through my personal contacts at the national and state P. T. A. conventions, and through the articles I have been writing for several years in the Child Welfare Magazine, which is the official national organ of the P. T. A.

Some P. T. A. leaders are writing me for literature and suggestions about programs. Many say they are using this column for discussion groups; some that they are making scrap-books of it. In one large city the local P. T. A. is competing for a prize offered by the city P. T. A. council for the best scrap-book made from these columns; all of which encourages me but makes me feel humble, wishing always that I might make the column better and more useful. Any suggestions to this end always will be warmly welcomed.

The "Magazine for Parents" will soon carry a series of my articles on "Building Personality in the Child," should find in your library within the next six months, together with my last book, "The Modern Parent." But those who read this column regularly will get the best I have to give. More and more I feel, as I write, a very personal touch with those who find what I write worth reading.

Peter's Adventures

AFRAID TO GO HOME
Busy, the Black Ant, had a way with her. She convinced the sentinel.

"If you vouch for the strange creature you have with you, it is all right with me," declared the sentinel. "Forward march, comrade. Out with the two of you."

Sentinel stepped back and into the fresh air and sunshine stepped Busy and the boy. Without saying a word to each other, the two hurried away from the entrance as fast as they could go. When Peter looked over his shoulder, the sentinel had disappeared in the underground passage.

"She hasn't gone far," remarked Busy, reading the boy's thoughts. "She's just keeping out of sight to pounce upon anybody she thinks has no business entering the tunnel."

"Where do we go from here?" asked Peter. At the word, Busy the Black Ant, stopped short in her tracks.

"To tell the truth, where I go you can't come," said she. "You see, it's like this. I am making straight for my own people who are working as hard as beavers to build a new home. If I should bring you along, they would find you so interesting that they would take their minds off their business. That would never do. They need every moment they have to give to hard work. Before long the night is coming and when twilight falls we must have safer shelter from the mist and the fire-breathing insects that roam the meadows in search of prey. No ant's life is safe in the shadows. In fact, if an ant stays out too late she is afraid to go home in the dark and hides under a leaf until dawn comes. Nor can she sleep, but shivers and shakes with fear the whole night through.

Boy Scout Is Shot By Friend

13-Year-Old Beaver Falls Lad Not Expected To Live

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Feb. 16.—Paul Spooner, 13, Boy Scout, and son of Mrs. John McCullough, College Hill, is reported dying in the Providence Hospital here with a gunshot wound in the back.

Police report the boy was shot by Jack Smith, 15, also a Boy Scout of Beaver Falls, as two troops of Boy Scouts were hiking near Koppel, six miles north of there.

Smith, who had taken a 22-caliber on the hike, told police he aimed his rifle at a target over Spooner's head. With the report of the gun Spooner fell wounded. He was brought to the hospital by L. H. Henning, Koppel scoutmaster.

Dr. B. C. Painter, who attended the injured boy, said the bullet had shattered the spine and lodged near the heart.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

This is a story of a horse, not noted for its pedigree, but a horse of more than an ordinary sense of its place in the life of the community and the ability to perform on the streets of the city at the command of its owner.

In fact this horse showed an intellect far above its mental station in life and was not derailed by the fact that it drew a draywagon many years of its life.

It was the property of John Sanderson, widely known and highly respected drayman of the city, in the days, when the snorting, noisy trucks of the present day came into use.

One of the things that this horse could do and do well, was wait; and it was not an infrequent sight to see this horse waiting for the principal streets of the city, with its proud owner in the wagon it was drawing and waiting some wait tune to which the horse was performing in perfect step.

MOST AILMENTS AND DISEASES CAUSED BY CATARRH OF STOMACH

WORLD'S TONIC, THE SYSTEMIC TREATMENT, IS MADE TO HELP OVERCOME CATARRH. IT BRINGS SPLENDID RESULTS IN A SHORT TIME.

Most ailments and diseases are caused or aggravated by the faulty working of the stomach. When vital organs fail or falter in their duty, toxins are not cleared out of the system. They remain and bring on bad health. Catarrhal conditions of the mucous membranes of the gall bladder and duct, and of the intestinal tract and stomach, derange the whole digestive system.

The victim is invariably troubled with loss of sleep and energy, fickle appetite and sour, gassy stomach, foul breath, old fashioned stomach-ache, such as constipation, gastritis and sourness, indigestion—pains from gas in the stomach, belching and similar well known symptoms follow. Authorities state that nine out of ten people in the American cities are likely to be so affected, and it is partly due to catarrhal conditions.

World's Tonic, the new treatment for catarrh, acts in a quick and efficient manner in helping to cleanse and clear the intestinal tract, stimulate the bowels and liver. Thus Nature is assisted in discharging from the system the very elements and impurities which cause the manifestations of the symptoms and ailments allied with the stomach, liver and kidneys. With the system cleared and cleansed, World's Tonic takes up the work of stimulating these lagging vital organs, and when they are restored and working harmoniously once more, one is bound to enjoy good health.

Kidneys filter the blood, keeping it rich and pure. Liver and bowels work fine, and with stomach digesting and appetite restored to normal, one receives great benefit from the nourishment derived from the food. Like a well oiled machine, the system converts the food we eat into strength and tissue, while the waste is cleared quickly and entirely. One may eat what he wishes without fear of after effects. Elderly people with catarrh of the stomach, kidneys, or liver, find World's Tonic is a very effective catarrhal treatment. It gives quick and good results in the different forms of catarrh.

Agents Arrest Two In Chicago, Probe Big Narcotic Ring

Man And Woman Prominent In Chicago Are Arrested In Fashionable Quarters

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—Investigation of what authorities say is an international organization of narcotics smugglers went ahead today with secret agents of the United States and Canada co-operating in the hunt for fresh information.

What action, if any, will be taken as a result of raids conducted at two exclusive North Side hotels by federal men remained a question today. In the course of the raids two persons of international prominence were taken in custody for questioning.

Federal men first raided the suite of W. Perkins Bull, K. C. (King's Counselor) or London and Toronto, arresting Bull. He was held for questioning until an early hour Saturday morning. Bull, a rich landowner having estates in England, Canada and Cuba, is said to be an intimate friend of King George of England.

Next the raiders appeared at the apartment of Mrs. Maybelle Horlick Sidley, heiress to the fortune of William H. Horlick, Racine, Wis., manufacturer. She likewise was taken in custody and questioned along with Bull.

Attorneys for both persons have demanded a complete explanation from federal authorities, maintaining the raids were conducted without legal basis or justification. As yet the federal agents have offered no explanation of the raids.

Muscular-Rheumatic Aches and Pains

DRAW them out with a "counter-irritant." Distressing muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness—generally respond pleasantly to good old Musterole. Doctors call it a "counter-irritant," because it gets action and is not just a salve. Musterole helps bring soreness and pain to the surface, and thus gives natural relief. You can feel how its warming action penetrates and stimulates blood circulation. But do not stop with one application. Apply this soothing, cooling, healing ointment generously to the affected area once every hour for five hours. Used by millions for over 20 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses.

Keep Musterole handy; jars and tubes. To Mothers—Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

"Though a Blonde, I Prefer WEAK BRAKES..."

"Funny thing happened to me the other day. I was driving along, nice as you please, when a squad of police pulled alongside, they did. I told 'em I wasn't pursuing my usual vocation. They said they were pursuing me just the same. I powdered my nose real quick-like... imagine my surprise when they said they didn't want a date but were sore 'cause I'd merely knocked down two lamp-posts, wrecked a furniture van and crashed through the side of a church... They said my brakes were bum, they did. Ain't that a scream?"

Let's give thanks that all drivers aren't like Mrs. Marvel. Yet, if your brakes are not in perfect adjustment, you may come to grief. Slipping, grabbing, squealing brakes are brakes you can't depend upon. We'll put them in perfect adjustment for you... and our prices are low.

NEW GALILEE

Miss Mayme Dryden is spending a few days visiting relatives in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. H. Ford and daughter Iola and Florence of Koppel spent Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Welsh.

Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Young entertained in honor of their little daughter Audrey at a birthday party. Audrey received many lovely gifts.

Mont Tanner of Beaver Falls was a visitor at the A. W. Tanner home on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Welsh proved charming hostesses Thursday evening when they entertained Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Martsoff, Virginia and Harold. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Welsh and children of this place, Willard and Louise of Koppel. The affair was a triple birthday celebration including Mrs. L. W. Welsh, R. H. Welsh, and Virginia Martsoff. Delicious refreshments were served.

Nora Mae Steen entertained a number of her little friends at her home on Wednesday evening in honor of her twelfth birthday anniversary. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Music and games were the diversions of the evening after which a delicious luncheon was served.

Pinchot Prepares List Of Questions For P. S. C. Probers

Senator William Earnest Receives Letter From Governor Pinchot

Asks Committee Answer Questions Before He Will Appear With Testimony

By ARTHUR B. DONEGAN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Feb. 16.—Charging flatly that "the earnest investigating committee is under grave suspicion of being set up not to investigate but to whitewash the public utilities," Governor Gifford Pin-chot today laid down before the Senate probing body a program to be carried out before he appears before the committee.

The governor's suggested program was contained in a letter sent to Senator William Earnest, Dauphin, chairman of the Senate committee which has undertaken a probe of the Public Service commission and the utilities of the state. It was transmitted in answer to an invitation from Earnest to appear before the committee and present charges against both the commission and the utilities.

Eleven Questions

Governor Pinchot listed 11 questions he finds desirable for the committee to answer before he indicated he would appear as a witness.

The questions cover many phases of the governor's charges against the public utilities are charging but also with the role such concerns are alleged to have taken in political activities.

Until the Senate committee has made it clear that it intends "a thorough going attempt to uncover the truth," the governor said, he does not "propose to be concerned or connected with any attempt to sidetrack a thorough public utility investigation."

The governor based his charge that the Earnest committee stands suspect of a "whitewash" on the fact that the upper house rejected the Moore resolution which provided for a committee to investigate the utilities composed not only of senators but of members of the house and representatives of the governor.

He asserted also that the majority of the subcommittee which is to handle the Senate probe is "universally believed to be favorable to the utilities."

Proposed Scope

Proposed scope of the investigation was another feature which drew the fire of the chief executive.
He claimed in his letter that the committee's plans is "so carefully restricted that under its wording any serious inquiry is highly unlikely."

"Really important" questions which, Gov. Pinchot hinted, the committee might easily rule out under its proposed investigation included:

Whether the rates people are required to pay for public utility service are fair?

Whether the service public utilities render is adequate?

Whether certain utilities are managed by and in the interest of persons outside of Pennsylvania?

Whether the utilities have attempted to control political affairs?

Whether they water their stock fraudulently, boost construction costs, pad their tariffs with fixed service charges and collect from the people returns based on money never put into the business?

Specific Charges
Those questions were but a general summary to the specific charges the governor wants the probe committee to investigate.

Specific charges hurled by the governor included:

Why do the people in Pittsburgh pay 25 cents for a bus ride for which the charge in other places is 10 or 15 cents?

Do public utilities in Philadelphia give their construction work to political contractors without competitive bids on the "notoriously expensive and unbusinesslike" cost plus basis, and if so, why?

Has the Public Service commission allowed water rates already profitable to be raised still higher immediately after the sale of Pennsylvania water companies, such as the Scranton-Spring Brook Water company, to New York interests?

Is it true that the light and power utilities of Pennsylvania are owned outside the state to such an extent that "one man in New York controls the electricity supplied to one-third our commonwealth?"

Thanks Committee
Have water companies been allowed by the Public Service commission "to get by" with equipment so defective as to endanger public safety and public health?

In his letter, Governor Pinchot also thanked the committee for its invitation to George Woodruff, his special public utilities counsel to appear before it, but added that "until your committee has demonstrated it is engaged in a thorough-going attempt to uncover the truth it will not be desirable for him to accept your invitation."

And now that Bishop Cannon and General Butler have escaped retribu-tive action the world will settle back and wait for them to get in trouble again.—The Charlotte News.

Central Church Has 80th Anniversary

Members Respond To Roll Call
By Pastors And Oldest Members Are Honored

Beautiful flowers filled the pulpit of the Central Presbyterian church Sunday morning as the congregation observed the eightieth anniversary of the founding of the church.

The oldest members in point of years of membership was Crawford White of Euclid avenue, who was received into fellowship with the church by Rev. A. B. Bradford in 1865 and prior to being received into membership Mr. White had attended many services of the church at the time he was carried in by his mother's arms to the various meetings.

Mrs. Sarah Wallace, who is in her 95th year and Mrs. Mary Tidball, who is in her 94th year, are the most aged members and flowers honored both these women were placed in the pulpit by their children and friends.

The church was filled to capacity for the service and as Dr. Charles B. Wingerd, the present pastor, called the roll of pastors who had served at various times, the members who had been received by them arose.

Dr. M. H. Calkins served the church from 1873 to 1899, a period of 26 years and many members were present Sunday who had joined during his long pastorate. Dr. S. H.
Moore served from 1899 to 1906 and he is at present located at Eustis, Fla. Rev. A. B. McClintock served the congregation from 1907 to 1914 he being at present pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Oil City. Rev. S. M. F. Nesbitt served from 1914 to 1919 and is at present at Wooster, Ohio. Rev. Frances E.
Reese served from 1920 to 1925 and he has been called recently to Spokane, Wash.

Dr. Charles B. Wingerd has served the congregation since 1926 and he gave the historical address of the morning, designating the four distinctive features which have marked the church, since its inception. These are the evangelistic, the missionary, the social and the spiritual sides of the church, which he stressed during his interesting address.

The day's services were brought to a close Sunday evening with an interesting missionary message, brought by Roberta Barr, field secretary of the National Presbyterian Board.

Federal-Aid Road Fund Less

Part Of State Allotment Is Allocated For Projects Now Under Way

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—The unallocated balance in the federal-aid road fund of Pennsylvania available for new federal-aid highway projects in the State was $7,739.28 less on the first day of this month than on the first of January, this sum having been obligated by the federal government during the month for projects already under way or approved for construction, according to a survey compiled by the United States bureau of public roads.

The unallocated balance in the federal-aid road fund on February 1 available for new projects in the Keystone State was $5,139,980.76, as compared with the $5,146,620.04 unallocated one month previous.

The completed mileage of federal-aid roadway in the State on February 1 was 2,658.1 miles, the report reveals, and a total of 46.5 miles were under construction at an estimated total cost of $7,243,177.79 of which $2,578,577.96 was to be covered by the federal government.

In addition to the highway already under construction the State 3.4 miles of federal-aid roadway had been approved for construction, at an estimated total cost of $291,261.75, of which $96,440.55 has been obligated by the federal government, according to the survey.

INCOME TAX FACTS

No. 13. Of the millions of income tax returns that are filed annually the vast majority are from persons whose income consists of "compensation for personal services actually rendered." All of the various types of compensation, unless such income is specifically exempt by statute, should be included in the taxpayer's return of gross income, such as salaries, wages, fees, commissions, tips, bonuses, honorariums, prizes, awards, pensions in recognition of past services, etc. In general, compensation for personal services should be reported for taxation purposes in the year it is received or unqualifiedly made subject to demand. If the services were rendered during the year 1929, or even prior thereto, but the compensation was not received until 1930, the entire amount is taxable in the year received when the taxpayer is reporting on the cash receipts basis. Most individuals use the cash receipts basis in reporting net income.

The salaries of federal officers and employees are subject to the income tax except the salary of the president of the United States and federal judges. Other items subject to tax are salaries and fees received by ministers of the gospel for funerals, marriages, baptisms, masses and like services; executors' fees, directors' fees, federal jury fees, base pay of United States army and navy officers on duty in the United States, and prizes received in contests of various kinds.

Compensation received by employees from organizations which are themselves exempt from taxation are taxable, as, for example, the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., charitable and religious organizations, boards of trade, chambers of commerce and trade relief organizations, organized and operated for purposes other than financial gain.

BREAKS UP A COLD IN A JIFFY

Feel Like a New Person Almost Before You Know It

If you want quick relief from a cold go back to first principles and use something you know does the business—don't start "trying" a lot of fancy ideas or remedies. Even a "little" cold is too dangerous to take chances on.

Get Hill's Cascara Quinine. A scientific formula made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a jiffy, not to cure a hundred different things.

Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all. Soon those mean, aching pains in head and body begin to go; the cold breaks up; poisons leave your system. Almost before you know it, you feel like a new person.

If it doesn't do that, your money back. Get a box now. You'll be surprised at the speed with which it works. Costs only a few cents.

MANY MEN CALLED ON HER—JUST ONCE OR TWICE.

GIRLS OFTEN POLITELY IGNORED HER

NOW SHE IS POPULAR WITH EVERYONE. SHE FOUND THE EASY WAY TO END "B.O."

Pretty? . . . Yes!
Popular? . . . No!

. . . until she ended 'B.O.' Read one girl's story

"WHAT a lonely life I used to lead! It all seems like a bad dream now. I had no really close friends. People were always pleasant and cordial enough when we first met. But soon they drifted away. Yet I never suspected the reason until one girl finally told me.

"She had hesitated a long time. For no one likes to speak of body odor even under the polite name—'B.O.'

"And to think that I had been offending and didn't know it! But we seldom notice 'B.O.' in ourselves—only in others. Though our pores give off a quart of odor-causing waste daily, we quickly get used to this ever-present odor. We think we're safe when we're not!

"But with Lifebuoy to protect me, there's no fear of 'B.O.' now. Lifebuoy lathers so generously, no matter how hard the water. And this rich, creamy lather is gently antiseptic. It purifies pores—removes all odor. I certainly am grateful to Lifebuoy! It's made a tremendous difference in my life."

Watch complexions freshen

You'll never know how radiantly fresh and clear your complexion can be until you use Lifebuoy. Its bland, searching lather deep-cleanses pores—tones and stimulates dull, sallow skins back to healthy, glowing beauty. Its pleasant, extra-clean scent, that vanishes as you rinse, tells you Lifebuoy purifies! Adopt Lifebuoy today.

MUNICIPAL THEATRE IN FETE To celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the opening of its municipal theatre, Barmen, Germany, recently held a fete. Who Drew That?

Somebody's scrawled a line up there just where we were going to write an ad about A & P. Come on now, who did it?

Oh . . . that's different. You say the line shows how fast the retail price of food has been going down? So it does. And it's taken quite a slide, hasn't it? Down to about 15% lower than it was in September, 1929, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Better not erase it then; because A & P had more to do with the drawing of that line than anybody else in the United States. For, as growers and producers have reduced their prices, A & P has reduced the price of food in its stores.

We'll just write the ad way down here in a little bit of space. A & P is the strongest influence in the country for keeping the price of food to the consumer low.

Diphtheria Is Curable Taken Early

Dr. Clendening Lauds Use Of Antitoxin Serum

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Predicting what will happen in the next ten years, Norman Bel Geddes makes two prophecies of medical interest.

There will be no more epidemics. There will be no incurable diseases.

We all hope he is right, but we have a long way to go. For incurable diseases we need not only the means to cure, but education of the public to use the means.

Diphtheria, for instance, is certainly a curable disease. We know exactly how to cure it and how to prevent it. Yet there are plenty of people who still die of diphtheria. They die because they or their families do not call a doctor in time, do not become convinced of the seriousness of the disease until too late. Or because they do not realize the reliability and harmlessness of antitoxin. Of because some crank or faddist has warned them never to take a serum.

It is not always lack of knowledge, therefore, that prevents diseases from being cured. Sometimes it is lack of, or harmful, education of the public. Nowhere is this more evident than in the kind of instruction the public is constantly getting about diet. Many newspapers and magazines seem to think they cannot interest their readers with the plain truth about wholesome dieting. So cranks and faddists spread the most outrageous absurdities about the subject, doing harm both to those who take their advice and to those in the legitimate business of selling wholesome food.

When people have learned to use the means they already have to cure disease, I will believe that the conquest of incurable diseases may be at hand.

A book called "We Take to Bed," by Marshall McLintock, has come to my desk. It should be of great interest to everybody, but especially of value to patients who have tuberculosis, because it shows that even the worst cases can get well.

The two young people described, man and wife, had every possible experience with the disease. One had an early case, one an advanced case. They overcame nearly every obstacle tuberculosis patients have to conquer—poverty, the necessity of renouncing the joys of life while you are young, the companionship of their child. Their triumph is an illustration of Ode's phrase, "Getting well of tuberculosis depends more on what you have in your head than in what you have in your chest."

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

Mrs. H. M. C.: "I have some blisters on the palms of my hands which I am sure are caused from what I eat, as they disappear when I fast. I only weigh 107 pounds and have lost too much weight dieting. Is it possible to change the blood by shots in the arm? I have been to nine doctors and through a clinic, and used lots of medicine. What shall I do now?"

Answer: Blisters on the palms of the hands are caused by many different things. Most of them are not serious. You seem to be doing yourself more harm dieting to treat the disease than the disease itself does. Eating enough is just as much a form of dieting treatment as keeping away from certain foods. You have never found the cause of your blisters. Consult a dermatologist, an M. D. who specializes in diseases of the skin.

New Problem For Officials Results As Rum Is Seized

Canadian Schooner Springs Leak, Asks Aid, Liquor Found, Enter Protest

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—A new problem today faced diplomatic and coast guard officials as 11 men from the crew of the Canadian ship Algie were held here.

The men chose the chance of arrest rather than death when their ship sprang a leak and foundered in Long Island Sound. Coast guards rescued the crew after they sounded an SOS but shortly after arrested the men when they claimed 3,500 cases of liquor was found on the ship. The liquor was estimated to be worth $75,000.

The Canadians demanded their release as survivors of a wrecked vessel. The captain of the boat claimed he was bound for Bermuda and steamed toward New York only when the ship started to leak.

A decision in the case may be made today.

White Star Bus Sued For $63,000

WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 16.—Two damage suits, asking damages amounting to $63,000, have been instituted here against the White Star Bus Lines by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Krasowski of Canonsburg. Mrs. Krasowski seeks $63,000 for hurts she suffered and $3,000 for the death of her child. They were passengers in an automobile which collided with a bus near Canonsburg.

Bo-Broadway by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press
NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The other afternoon, one of The Brothers who daily tramps Broadway in an effort to "disentangle the main charm from the thick of particulars" dropped into the Ziegfeld Theatre.

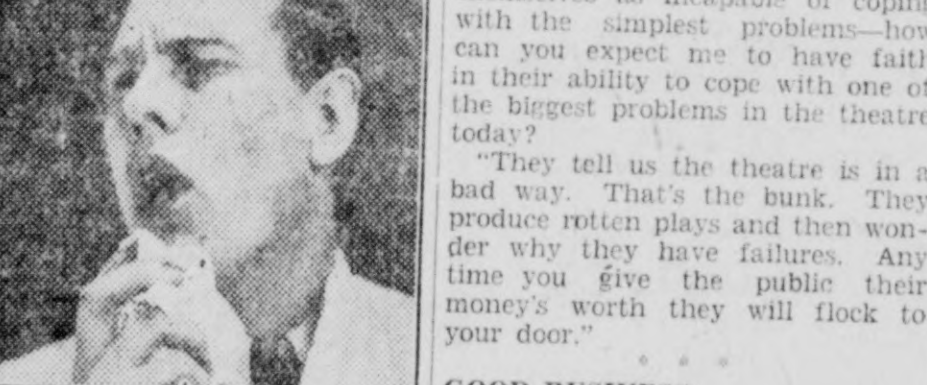

Flo, himself was sitting in an aisle seat, alone in the gloom his facon-glass trained on the lighted stage across which, one by one, prouetted a number of girls aged from sixteen up, all unknown to fame.

There they were, face to face with The One Big Chance—The Folies to shoot at, and Flo Ziegfeld, in person, to lamp their possibilities.

The answer to it all lies in the query: "What price, glory?"

For the Old Glorifier who, all these years, has been glorifying for the sheer glory of the thing, is about to reef his sails.

"It's become too expensive," he says, with a rueful shake of his head. "You can't make money with $5,000-a-week stars. It can't be done. So I'm digging up some kids. I'll try to give 'em good material to work with and see what happens."

Weather Bureau Plans Expansion On 61st Birthday

Celebrates Rise From Humble
Advent In 1870 To Power
In World Trade

WASHINGTON Feb. 16.—The United States Weather Bureau warden of life and property over most of a continent and its territories, celebrates its 61st birthday, this week with plans for extension of its already vast services.

From a little unit consisting of 30 inland telegraph operators under the Army Signal Service, the bureau has expanded its operations into the sphere of all the elements. In 1870 its only work was to telegraph the approach of storms in a limited area. Today it is guardian of shipping in three oceans of 18,000 miles of airways, watchman against earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, the ebb and flow of tides, freshets of rivers and even the intensity of solar radiation.

Plans Improvements

The bureau has plans, however, to intensify the more important of these services relating to aviation and trans-oceanic shipping. It has just asked for a Congressional appropriation of $300,000 with which it plans to increase its observations along 2000 miles of airways. In the near future it plans to watch over 25,000 miles and to offer precise data for airplanes extending from the west coast of North America to Hawaii and the east coast of Bermuda.

It has a program for rebuilding of observation stations, replacements of equipment and other improvements in its far-flung territorial possessions, including Porto Rico, where Caribbean hurricanes are watched, in Alaska where the air service is notified of dangerous elements and in Hawaii.

Seeks World-Wide Aid

One of the programs to which the bureau attaches most importance, however, is international co-operation for weather observations at sea. As a result of Paris conferences in 1922 the leading shipping nations agreed to secure a large number of ships which would contribute to this exchange. German, British and French ships are already participating with United States vessels. The number of vessels of each nation engaged in the project is to be in proportion to the nation's total tonnage of vessels over 100 tons.

Under this plan there will eventually be 1000 selected ships of all nations sending radio reports regularly during their voyages at sea. Of this number 180 will be of U. S. registry. The hours of observation of all selected ships will be identical in all parts of the world—midnight, six o'clock in the morning, noon and 6 o'clock at night. Some ships having enough watch officers will forward all four observations daily, but on most vessels only two will be radioed giving preference to those that fall within the daylight hours.

Completes Audit Of Books For State

W. G. Barker Completes Task Of Going Over County
Officials' Records

MERCER, Pa., Feb. 16.—W. G. Barker, Esq., of Mercer, appointed state auditor by Judge J. A. McLaughry, will complete his work shortly. The official audits the books of the clerk of courts, prothonotary and recorder.

Each of these named offices divides their fee with the state. To determine this division is the purpose of the audit. The official reports the books of the clerk correct and showing a high state of efficiency in the management of the offices.

TAKE CITIZENSHIP TESTS

Seventy aliens will report here for the May term of court when they will be given tests on citizenship. The number is the average for the last two years.

POOR WHEAT SEASON

Another short wheat crop in 1931 following one that was a flop in 1930 makes the avocation of county farm dwellers no sinecure. The lack of snow, a freezing and thawing climate of which the last two seasons have been productive makes this crop shortage sure. Never did the farmers have a tougher time since the pioneer days than now say old timers.

GAME RELEASED

Game Protector O. A. Perschka reports release of 1164 rabbits in this country that will restock the 53,000 killed during the 1930 season. Raising four litters a year makes this duplication possible. The 1930 season was productive of the record number of cottontails shot.

The official reports the shooting of 156 quail, 150 grouse and 400 ring necks. Quail and grouse are fast becoming extinct despite efforts to save them. This winter two tons of feed will be distributed by sportsmen to bring the birds through.

Cooperation Is Chief Need In Coal Industry

Coal Industry Would Be Prosperous If Cooperation Is Acquired

American Institute Of Mining Delegates Hear C. E. Bockus Speak

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The bituminous coal industry would be made prosperous if 300 of the larger companies would cooperate instead of fighting each other, C. E. Bockus, president of the National Coal Association today told the coal division of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers meeting.

"The coal man can never expect government help such as been tried for the farmer," said Bockus. "But might it not be reasonable to expect that some day there may be a freeing from the unreasonable restraint of industry so that there could be cooperation that would adjust supply to demand and secure an economic return for a great natural resource?"

Not Too Confident.
"I am none too confident that at this time such freedom would accomplish the results desired, but ultimately that would appear to be the only sign board pointing to a path out of the existing morass."

While declaring that the future undoubtedly would hold great things for coal, Bockus stated that bituminous coal will do well to hold its own in the next ten years.

Dependent on these next few years may also be our fate as to whether or not we are to survive, to be in existence when new uses

EVERY DAY WORTH LIVING
There is no illness so oppressive as an imperfectly functioning stomach—perhaps not serious enough, if many cases to be confining, and severe enough to prevent the full enjoyment of every day life and the pleasure of performing the daily duties. To those persons who have habitual or occasional stomach trouble, such as gastric hyperacidity, sour stomach, gas disturbances, bloating, belching, heartburn, bad breath, flatulency, loss of appetite, we unhesitatingly say "Foster's Tablets." To our personal knowledge, this remedy has relieved and corrected hundreds of such cases of stomach trouble, many of which were of a long standing nature. We shall be glad to give further information, and, of course, without obligation.

Johnstown Lodge Through Attorney Asks Evidence Be Suppressed

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 16.—Another attack on search and seizures made by federal prohibition officers in lodges of the Fraternal Order of Eagles was on file in federal court here today in the petition of Attorney D. P. MacQuarrie, for the Johnstown lodge.

MacQuarrie asked in the petition that six bottles of unlabeled alleged beer seized December 24 in the quarters of the Johnstown Aerie, No. 779, of the organization be suppressed as evidence.

According to the petition, prohibition agent John C. Clifford is charged with having violated the espionage act in the seizure of the alleged beer. MacQuarrie charged that the agent gained unlawful entrance to the lodge quarters by representing himself to be a member of the organization.

Clifford's search warrant, subsequently obtained, was secured, the petition charged, on an affidavit that was based on information secured by fraud.

MacQuarrie further charged in the petition that the use of badges and organization symbols is punishable under a Pennsylvania State Act of 1907.

The petition of the Johnstown Aerie was latest of a number submitted by other lodges in the organization asking that evidence be suppressed where it was charged that prohibition agents gained entrance to the lodges through the use of seized membership cards.

Growing Deaf With Head Noises? Try This.

If you are growing deaf or hearing and fear catarrhal deafness, or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears, go to New Castle Drug Co., Eckerd's or your druggist and get 1 oz. of Parmitin (double strength) and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy, and the mucous stop dripping into the throat. It is easy to take. Anyone who is threatened with catarrhal deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES
Does a pimply face embarrass you? Get a package of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights, if you are like thousands of others.

Help cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. Thousands who take Olive Tablets are never cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition, pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound; known by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

The attendance contest which was inaugurated in the first week of January at the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church is being continued with great enthusiasm on the part of the Sunday school and a marked improvement in the Sunday school attendance is shown.

Grand finale to the contest will come shortly after Easter Sunday when a tureen dinner will be given at the church, with the winning class members as honor guests.

Pink Lee Not Good Traveler

"Pink Lee" the valuable race horse that was shipped from the Baltimore and Ohio station here on Thursday for California, evidently doesn't think much of the traveling idea. He was made real comfortable in a freight train, with an exclusive crate and all. He was fed and given a nice farewell by his former owner, J. J. W. Morrow, but by the time he had got to Chicago, Ill., he had kicked vociferously at his crate and got out of it.

For his efforts, "Pink Lee" has a new and stronger crate for the rest of the trip across the continent, and the splintered one has arrived back here, at the local railroad station. Pinky has a temper, but he should feel lucky, going to California for the winter months.

Arson Case Goes To County Court After Hearing

Ellwood Men Accused By State Police, Don't Testify Before Alderman

Frank Port, 45, 734 Lawrence avenue, Ellwood City, and William Hashbach, 20, 835 Park avenue, Ellwood City, were held for the March term of county court, to be tried on a charge of arson, preferred against them by State Police, following a hearing before Alderman W. E. Marshall Saturday afternoon. They were arrested shortly after the destruction by fire of a six-room frame house on the Ellwood City-New Castle road last Wednesday.

Walter J. Smith, R. D. 1, New Castle, with A. J. Richards, the state policeman who made the arrest of the pair, were the only witnesses called to testify by District Attorney John S. Powers, who appeared for the commonwealth at the hearing in the alderman's office.

Smith, a mill worker, declared he was traveling with two companions when the city for the midnight shift at the mill and saw the fire start at about 11:10 p. m. on Wednesday.

Smith testified he saw the house, located about a mile beyond the county home, light up all at once. The trio found another machine parked on the driveway to the house and stopped to call help. Smith testified he saw two men near the house at the time. Another was repairing a fire on the machine in the driveway.

State Policeman Richards testified that he had made a thorough investigation of the fire after being called to the scene by neighbors in the district. The officer declared he arrived in time to find the blaze confined to two separate parts of the house, which had been unoccupied at the time of the fire.

Richards said he had found a five-gallon can in the dining room while the fire was in progress. The fires were on the first and second floors. There were no holes between floors to connect these two fires, the officer testified.

Richards said he learned that Port held a second mortgage on the house and had visited him in Ellwood City. Port, Richards said, had been in the house on Wednesday evening. It was this admission, apparently that caused the investigator to continue to question him and ultimately to arrest Port.

Port, according to the witness, declared when questioned in Ellwood City, that he had received a letter from the owner of the house, Mrs. Rhoda Meersman of Swissvale, Pa., that persons had been stealing furnishings from her home on the Ellwood City-New Castle road, and Port had visited the place in the past to investigate.

Port had told him, Richards testified, about a second mortgage of $1,100 on the property. A loan associate held a first mortgage on the house, now completely destroyed by fire.

Richards also said that Port told him he had gone with William Hashbach in the latter's car, together with another person, whose name the two defendant's will not reveal to bring Mrs. Port home on Wednesday night. They had arrived at the frame house on the Ellwood City-New Castle road. Port and the unnamed person went into the house, while young Hashbach, remained outside to repair a flat tire.

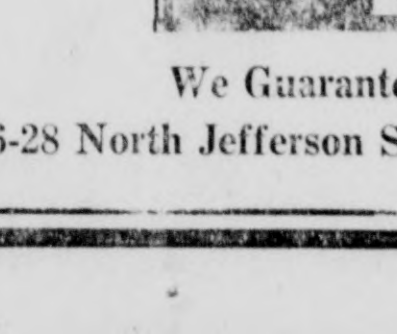

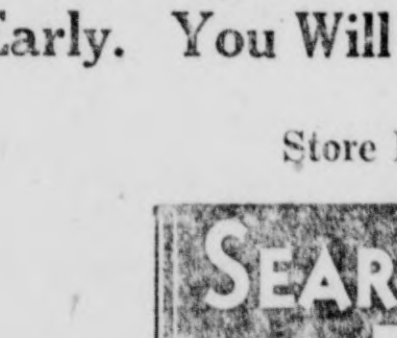

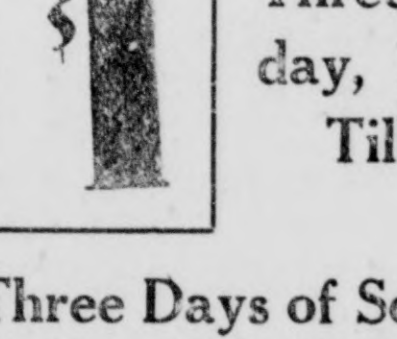

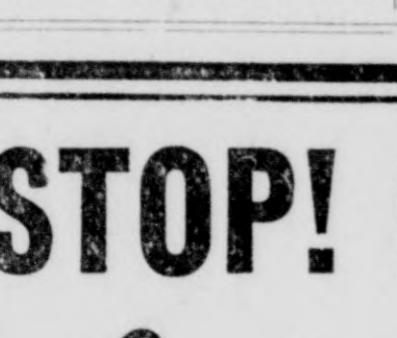

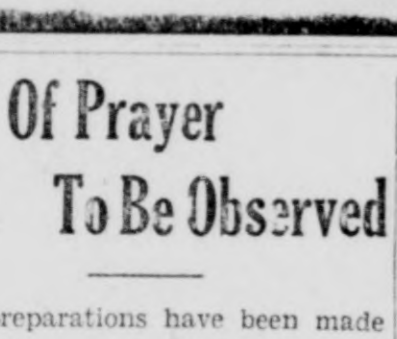

Port told Richards, according to the officer's testimony, that he (Port) and the unnamed person went inside. Port struck a match to light the interior and the house went into flames. That, according to Richards, was what he learned from Port.

Counsel for Port and Hashbach announced at the conclusion of the hearing that they had made arrangements with Judge Chambers to set the bail for the defendants to await the court trial.

Still, it's not worse to leave diseased bodies at the mercy of quacks than to leave diseased minds at the mercy of lawyers and judges.

Federal Farm Board Reorganization Task For President Hoover

Difficult Job Awaits Hoover
As Almost Complete New Board Is Sought

Alexander H. Legge, Chairman, Is One Of Retiring Members

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—President Hoover faces the difficult task of almost completely reorganizing his federal farm board during the next few months.

Alexander H. Legge, the plain talking chairman, around whose head has swirled much of the controversy that has attended the board's policies, is retiring after March 4, to return to his $100,000 a year job as head of the International Harvester Company.

McKelvey to Retire

Samuel R. McKelvey of Nebraska the wheat member of the board who has shared with Legge the criticisms of the board's activities in wheat will retire in June. The terms of two other commissioners, C. C.
Teague of California, and Wm. F.
Schilling of Minnesota, also expire in June. They have not announced whether they will accept reappointment.

The impression obtains in Washington that President Hoover will name James C. Stone of Kentucky, to succeed Legge in the chairmanship. Stone is now vice chairman.
He represents the tobacco growers of the board and is considered one of the foremost authorities in the country on co-operative methods of growing and marketing.

The necessity for virtually remaking the board has aroused considerable speculation here as to its entire future. Before adjournment on March 4, Congress is expected to vote the board an additional $100-

000.00 which represents the last of the half billion dollars originally authorized for Mr. Hoover's plan of farm relief.

It is unlikely that Congress will vote the money without at the same time increasing in some frank criticism of what the board has accomplished with the over $400,000,000.

Hot Controversy

Almost from its inception, the board has been the centre of hot controversy over its wheat and cotton policies. Prices for these commodities are the lowest in a quarter of a century, which has led agriculturists to denounce the whole far-flung plan as a failure. To this criticism, chairman Legge has replied that even though prices are the lowest in 11 years, the American farmer is still getting from 20 to 25 cents above the world price. The board, he contends has at least accomplished that much.

The board now has more than 100,000,000 bushels of wheat which it bought in the open market in an endeavor to "peg" prices. Most of this grain was brought at prices far in advance of present prices. Some of it was bought at as high as $1.25 a bushel.

How the board is going to get out from under this load, without accepting an enormous loss, remains to be seen. Presumably, it will be a job for the re-vamped board to deal with during the next year.

In any event, chairman Legge is through, and so is ex-Gov. McKelvey.

Military Funeral Is Held Today For Maj-Gen. Edwards

Body Of World War Commander Is Placed At Rest
In Arlington Cemetery

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—With secretary of War Hurley and high ranking army officers in attendance the body of Maj. Gen. Clarence R.
Edwards, War time commander of the 26th (Yankee) division was given a soldier's burial in Arlington National cemetery at 11 a. m. today.

Rifles and light artillery fired the final salute here, and were echoed by booming guns throughout New England army posts.

Services for Gen. Edwards were simple and followed three hours after arrival of the body here from Boston with an escort of former Massachusetts members of the Yankee division, relatives and friends.

Eight body bearers, including three who gave their blood for transfusion in a vain effort to save their former commander, lowered the casket into the grave. They were Huy Watts, Gordon Botsford, and Irvin Peatfield, the three who submitted to transfusions, and Mark Kings, Wallace C. Day, John Callahan, James Creswell and John Holden, all of Boston.

The adoption of Standard B by the superintendents will be the principle feature of the meeting and Rev. Haverfield will explain this feature to the workers and how it can be put into effect.

Wealthy Woman And Son Found Dead In Home

Mother Had Evidently Turned On Gas To Kill Self
And Young Son

(International News Service)
SAGINAW, Mich., Feb. 17.—Mrs.
Harvey B. McCrory, aged 35, and her 10-year-old son, Robert, were found dead in their palatial home here, apparently the victims of gas which the mother, according to police, had turned on with suicidal intent.

Mrs. McCrory was the wife of Dr.
Harvey McCrory, county physician and candidate for mayor of Saginaw.

In a note to her brother, the woman ascribed domestic troubles as the cause for her purported suicide.

Rotarians Debate 13-Month Calendar At Noon Meeting

To be or not to be subjected to life under an international 13-month calendar was the big question Rotarians J. Clyde Gillilan and Prof. Frank L. Burton debated at the expense of the entire Rotary club membership in The Castleton at noon.

Held constantly in an uproar from the time Mr. Burton rose to take the affirmative side until Mr. Gillan uttered his last word for the negative, the club men relaxed and breathed more normally as the humorous argument closed.

High ranking U. S. Army officials, here to inspect Troop F tonight, also shared the noon-hour "entertainment."

In the group were Col. R. E. Tallant, federal inspector; Col. W. H.
Zierdt, representing the 28th division; Col. Arthur C. Colahan, Capt.
J. M. Shelton, and Major Samuel
B. Wolfe. They came from Philadelphia, Lewisburg and Tyrone.

Losers Will Give Dinner For Winners In Vets Auxiliary Campaign

Plans have been completed by the members of the losing side in the V. F. W. Auxiliary membership campaign which has been under way for the past two months, to banquet the winners on next Thursday evening, in connection with the regular meeting of the Auxiliary.

Two teams had been formed among the membership of the post, captained by Mrs. Evelyn Woods and Mrs. Louise Evans. Mrs. Woods' team was nosed out by the side captained by Mrs. Evans, and hence will furnish the eats on Thursday evening.

The campaign has resulted in a notable increase in the membership of the auxiliary, which has more members than ever before in the history of the organization, with many additional applications for membership on file.

Council Delays Taking Action On Policeman

Matter Is Passed Up Until Meeting On Friday Morning

BROTHERS ELIGIBLE;
PROVIDES PROBLEM

Council met today in the municipal building and decided to withhold the appointment of an eligible policeman to fill a vacancy in the city department until Friday. Before making their decision the police situation was discussed and several members outlined their attitude toward voting for eligibles.

When council met the civil service commission presented the names of the eligibles as follows: Fred Wallace, Herman Richards and Michael Babiaraz. The mayor recommended Richards.

"He has a brother on the police force," said Councilman Genkinger.
The list was studied and it was stated that the correct list of eligibles should be Wallace, Richards and Joseph W. Smith with Babiaraz, fourth.

Will Not Vote for Brother

After this list was read Councilman Treser remarked that his attitude was similar to that of Mr.
Genkinger and he would not vote for anyone who had a brother on the police force.

"I don't like it either but that is the list," said the mayor. He then explained that there are two "Richards" now on the police force because they are not related. Herman Richards, the eligible, is a brother to an officer now on the force.

Councilmen Genkinger and Treser made it plain in this discussion that as far as they knew there is nothing against the eligibles who have brothers on the force but that they do not want to vote for two men who are brothers to be on the police force. Fred Wallace, an eligible, has a brother on the force.

Mayor Gillespie remarked that the eligibles support separate families. He told his colleagues that if they decided to leave the appointment until Friday, he would be satisfied.

"If you are going to vote them down you had better plan it out," advised Solicitor Robert White to council.

Councilman Burns said that if a vote were taken today it would probably be two and two as Mr. Reeves was not present.

He said he did not like to vote against the recommendation of the mayor or any councilman.

Change Is Made

At this point Mr. White advised council that under the new code the method of appointing police will be different than the practice heretofore and he said that the Act of 1919 gives council the power to make appointments different than the system now in vogue.

White said that under the Act of 1919, council can ask for a list of four eligibles. Heretofore they have called for three.

He said council had the option of giving preference to men who had served in time of war providing the appointment was offered by the mayor.

To get the preference, however, it would be necessary, he said for the ex-serviceman to have passed the mental test of the civil service board.

Should they fail to meet the weight, age or height regulations, of the board White declared, the failure would not be a bar from the police force.

White explained that an ex-service man who is too light, too heavy, or past the age prescribed by the board or too small in height, has the right to ask to be certified as an eligible to council.

Councilman Genkinger stated that William Fleming, ex-serviceman and a former county detective had been rated mentally at 105 percent but that he was one half inch too short in height and had not been certified as eligible.

Council decided to withhold the appointments and before Friday will discuss the situation informally.

Best Girl Athlete At Franklin High

Westminster's All-Around
Star Teaching Math
And Swimming

The best all-around girl athlete of Westminster College, Miss Lois Stewart of Homestead, is teaching mathematics and swimming at the Benjamin Franklin junior high school this month.

Miss Stewart entered college four years ago as a non-swimmer. Under the guidance of Aquatics Director Jack Hulme, she passed the senior American Red Cross life saving test in her freshman year. She is now an expert swimmer and diver.

In addition to these accomplishments, she has been a star on her class basketball, volleyball, and water polo teams. Miss Stewart has also won the co-ed championship in tennis and also in badminton. She has stood among the best in the college in archery and in archery golf.

Miss Stewart is a member of Delta Nu Delta, honorary mathematics fraternity, and has been a member of the glee club and of the oratorio society.

Famous Evangelist, Speaking In Former Local Pastor's Church, Issues Dictum

Speaking under the auspices of the Temple Baptist church in Los Angeles at the request of Rev. John Snape, former pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, Billy Sunday, fiery evangelist, socked Communism on the chin.

"No man has the right to wave a red flag in the United States," thundered the two-fisted preacher. "If he doesn't like things as he finds them in the United States, let him go back to Russia, or wherever he came from! Boats are sailing every day and the sooner these agitators leave our shores the better! No man has a right to follow his own opinion unless his opinion coincides with the laws of the land. Every man in San Quentin or Folsom is there because he followed his own opinion."

the Parents-Teachers Association, in which she finds expression for her enthusiasm in serving the younger members of society. Her work with the National Council for Child Welfare was an outstanding achievement.

After the war, during which her husband served in the English army and Mrs. Owen served as a nurse, the Owens returned to America facing not only the undermined health of Major Owen but a desperate financial situation. Mrs. Owen then took up the lecture platform. Eight months later Major Owen died. It was during these years of struggle in which Mrs. Owen served as the main support of her family that she came to understand the hardships of the woman who goes out into the world to earn her living. Obtaining better conditions for business and professional women is a cause she sponsors with the greatest enthusiasm.

"Only the minority of these women go to work because of the thrill of having a career," she declares. "Most of them have not only their own needs which drive them into the business world but the added responsibility of looking after the support of others. Their attitude is of profound moral significance, and my respect for them is unbounded."

Miss Nannie Mitchell, president of the local chapter of P. E. O., expresses gratification with the interest shown by New Castle people in the appearance of Mrs. Owen in the city. She feels that P. E. O., under whose auspices Mrs. Owen is coming to New Castle, will be proud to offer a speaker of such ability, personality and wealth of interests; and that any one who hears her lecture will be richly privileged.

James Thompson Taken By Death

Erie Man, Former Member Of State Park Commission, Is Dead

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16.—Funeral plans were to be arranged today for James Thompson, of Erie, Pa., a grandson of the late Judge Samuel G. Thompson, of the State Supreme court, who succumbed in the University of Pennsylvania hospital here yesterday.

Thompson was a former member of the State Park Commission and during the World War served with General W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, in solving the transportation problems of the A. E. F. until three years ago he was head of the Thompson Ore Docks at Erie.

Erie Newspaper Man Is Fatally Burned In Fire

Frank M. Drennan, Erie
"Times" Employee Fatally Burned In Home

FIVE OTHERS ARE SAVED FROM FLAMES

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., Feb. 16.—Funeral services were being arranged today for Frank M. Drennan, 27, assistant circulation manager of the Erie "Times" who was fatally burned in a fire which gutted Drennan's home yesterday.

Drennan was taken alive from the flaming dwelling but was so badly burned that he died six hours later in Hamot hospital.

His wife, the couple's ten-month-old baby boy and three other persons were rescued. Lieut. John Passmore, attached to No. 9 Engine Company, suffered a lacerated hand in guiding the rescued from the home.

Miss Fern Douglas, her brother Robert, and Mrs. Jennie Robson were taken in safety from the second floor of the dwelling to the street.

Origin of the fire, which caused loss of $2,000 was undetermined although authorities believed it due to defective wiring.

Drennan's wife, awakened by the smoke in their first floor apartment, roused her husband. Overcome by smoke inhalation, however, Drennan fell to the floor where he was found by Lieut. Passmore who brought him to the street.

Sunday Marked Anniversary Of Sinking Of Maine

Battleship Blown Up In Havana Harbor 33 Years Ago—
War Vets To Meet

Sunday was the 33rd anniversary of the sinking of the United States battleship Maine in Havana harbor, Cuba, which in turn caused the Spanish-American war, resulting in the freeing of Cuba and the annexation to the United States of the Philippine Islands and Porto Rico.

According to Prof. William O. Stevens of the U. S. Naval academy in his book, "The Story of Our Navy," on February 15, 1898, at 9:45 p. m., there was a sudden and frightful explosion in the harbor of Havana. A moment later there was a great jet of fire shot up from the magazines of the Maine and the ship sank rapidly. All but two of the officers were saved, but of the crew of 353 men, only 48 escaped unhurt.

A naval inquiry determined that the ship had been blown up by an external explosion. The report stated that the ship had been blown up by a submarine mine. This was established beyond the shadow of a doubt by a careful examination of the wreck made in 1912.

But the direct result of the explosion was the war that followed between the United States and Spain in which Spain was defeated and stripped of practically all her foreign possessions.

It is this anniversary that Colonel Daniel Leasure Camp No. 40, United Spanish War Veterans, is observing this evening with a banquet at the Legion home.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of school and commander of the camp, will act as toastmaster and the speaker of the evening will be Colonel Benjamin Williams of Butler, veteran of both the Spanish-American and World wars. The balance of the program of the evening will be furnished by members of the Americanization school at the Lincoln and Garfield school under the direction of Prof. James M. Hughes. The indications are that there will be a good attendance of the Spanish war veterans and their families.

All branches of the New Castle free public library have gained greatly in circulation during the past year, according to Miss Alice Sterling's report of the month. The Mahoningtown branch gained 35 percent in January, 1931, over January 1930. Jameson hospital library gained 19 percent. South Side gained 35 percent. East Side gained 42 percent.

Total branch circulation was 14,711. Circulations of the various branches in January were—Mahoningtown, 3,835; Jameson, 295; New Castle hospital, 356; South Side, 5,707; and East Side, 4,518.

Wilkins In 'Sub'

BLOOMFIELD, N. J., Feb. 16.—More than 1200 applications have been received by Sir Robert Wilkins from persons desiring to accompany him on his trip across the Arctic zone this summer by penetrating the water beneath the polar ice in a submarine.

The commander of the expedition, visiting the Westinghouse Lamp Company to examine the specially constructed lights which will be the "eyes" of the submarine, said "we have had to eliminate those seeking to go only for adventure. We need serious-minded men, extremely capable in the work they will have to do."

A crew of about twenty will be taken in the submarine, Wilkins said.

State Commander Spanish Veterans In City Saturday

Addresses Large Group Of Veterans
At Legion Home
Saturday

Thomas G. Baxter of Wyalusing, Pa., commander of the Department of Pennsylvania of the United Spanish War Veterans, was the guest of Colonel Daniel Leasure Camp No. 24, on Saturday evening at a meeting held in the Legion Home.

The largest attendance of veterans of the Spanish American War in some time was present and heard the state commander discuss pending and proposed legislation for the veterans of that war. He answered many questions asked during the discussion that followed his address.

He urged that it was the duty of every veteran of the Spanish American War to become affiliated with the United Spanish War Veterans, stating that they owed it to their country, their comrades, their dependents and themselves. He spoke of the pensions either secured for veterans or their dependents or being sought at the present time. He showed that the greater the membership of the organization, the more sure they were of getting those benefits and rights to which they were entitled.

Officers of Colonel Daniel Leasure Camp entertain a dinner at 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening in The Castleton in honor of the state commander, his wife and daughter, and Corporal Paul Baxter of the state highway patrol, a son of the state commander. Covers were laid for eleven including several friends of the commander. The affair proved most enjoyable.

Twelve Thousand Borrowing Books

A total of 12,904 people borrow books from the local free public library according to the librarian, Miss Alice M. Sterling. In January 1931, 483 new borrowers were added to the previous total.

Of the new borrowers, 213 signed up for the adult department and 270 for the juvenile department.

WHEN THE FOODS YOU LIKE UPSET YOUR STOMACH Do This For Quick Relief

It's a fine thing to get up from a hearty meal, knowing that the food you have enjoyed will be easily digested, without pain or any stomach suffering. Yet, it's the easiest thing in the world to avoid indigestion or, if you are a habitual sufferer, to stop it, and keep the stomach in perfect health. Just a little "Bismarck" Magnesia, either powder or tablets, taken after eating, instantly neutralizes the excess acids which cause the trouble, prevents fermentation and gas formation, and soothes and strengthens the inflamed stomach lining. "Bismarck" Magnesia, which is sold by New Castle Drug Co. and reliable druggists everywhere, is the treatment recommended by Doctors and by thousands of one-time sufferers, who have proved again and again that it is a prompt and certain reliever of acid-caused digestive troubles.

Governor Pinchot To Appear Before Probe Committee

Pinchot Will Appear Before Committee Probing P. S. C. Activities

ROUTINE SESSION SCHEDULED TONIGHT

By WILLIAM B. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HARRISBURG, Feb. 16.—Further developments in the Senate investigation of the Public Service Commission and Public Utilities of the state were looked for on the upper house tonight, following a meeting of the earnest investigating committee this afternoon.

Governor Pinchot, sometime today was to answer the invitation of Sen. Earnest Dauphin, to appear before the committee and present formal charges against the Commission and the Utilities. It was reported in circles close to the executive that he would decline to appear before the Senate group, pending outcome of the anticipated battle in the house tonight on the turner resolution, adoption of which will place that body on record as endorsing the Senate probe.

Tonight's session of the Senate, from early indications, was to be more or less routine, with the spotlight fastened for this week on the house, the renewal of the Utility investigation held interest.

First step toward establishment of a state psychiatric hospital will be made tonight in the Senate when Senator Frank J. Harris, Allegheny, will introduce a bill providing for an appropriation of $25,000 to the Department of Property and Supplies for the Welfare Department to make preliminary plans for such an institution.

RADIO APPEAL HEARD BY MANY

Attorney Patterson Stresses Need For Completion Of Red Cross Relief Fund

Many New Castle and Lawrence county residents tuned in on Station WKBN of Youngstown last evening, when the appeal for the Lawrence county chapter's campaign for contributions to complete the fund were given by Attorney Clarence A. Patterson, chairman of the campaign.

Mr. Patterson called the attention of his audience to the fact that it is impracticable to make a house to house canvass for this fund, and the appeal has been confined to radio messages and through the newspapers.

He told of the amount needed to complete the fund and of the number now being aided by the national organization, urging residents of the Lawrence county district, to send in their checks immediately in order that the fund may be speedily raised.

The reception here was very good, and Mr. Patterson acquitted himself admirably in his first radio address.

It is hoped that the radio message will stimulate interest in the Lawrence County Chapter's drive and that they will be able to approximate their total of $17,000 set by the national organization as their quota in the campaign.

proceeded to the blessing of the altars and every part of the interior of the church.

Enter Church.
The blessing of the interior of the church completed, the assembled throngs that had been waiting on the outside, then proceeded in an orderly procession into the church.

First came a group of 100 ladies, members of the Confraternity of the Sacred Heart, headed by their officers, Mrs. Angela Panella, president; Mrs. Mary Izzo, vice-president; Mrs. Theresa Pecoraro, secretary; and Mrs. Lizzie Zumpella, treasurer. At their head was the standard of the organization.

Then came the Confraternity of Children of Mary, with 70 members in line headed by its standard bearers, Miss Olga Thomas, president; Miss Helen Lemarco, vice-president; Miss Florence Cipri, treasurer, and Miss Mary Lostracco, secretary.

The Junior Holy Name society was next in line with 80 boys in the procession. The standard of this organization and its officers headed this group. The officers at the head were Louis Izzo, president; Angelo Nocer, vice-president; Nick DePiero, secretary, and others.

Thirty members of the Senior Holy Name society then proceeded into the church headed by the standard and officers of the organization. The officers are Samuel Rose, president; Joseph Marchionda, vice-president; Joseph DeVivo, secretary, and Felix Thomas, treasurer.

The chapter Columbus society was then in line. This active society with 300 members had a very large group in the procession. The society was headed by the standard of the organization, also an American and an Italian flag and its officers, Angelo Russo, president; Peter Cardella, vice-president; Mariano DePiero, financial secretary, and Peter Perrotta, treasurer. The society also had a band in the procession.

Others of the parish and assembled friends of the congregation then filed in, every available bit of space being taken by the 700 people who were fortunate enough to get into the church. More than 300 were unable to get in and stood during the service outside the church.

Solemn High Mass
When the congregation had filled the church the celebration of solemn high mass was started, with the pastor, Rev. Sebastian Ippolito, as celebrant; Rev. Fr. Anthony Donatelli, deacon; Rev. Fr. Nunzio Pirulli as sub-deacon, Rev. Fr. Vincent Galliano as master of ceremonies and the other priests in the sanctuary.

Following the gospel, sermons in Italian and English were delivered. Rev. Fr. Anthony Donatelli spoke in Italian, while the Very Rev. Herman Seidel spoke in English. Both spoke of the importance of the church to the people, especially as a means of following their faith and caring for their souls. Father Seidel in particular congratulated the people on what had been accomplished and urged their continued support of the church. He urged them to do all they could in the advancement of the glory of God on earth, for the advancement of the country of their adoption and as Italian-American citizens to aid their community.

The music was of a beautiful and special character due to the importance of the occasion. Twenty singers, many of them from various parishes of the city, showed their careful training for the occasion. They were aided in the rendition by Miss Rose Martin, the church organist, and Victor Gargare, director of the choir, also by accompaniments on a clarinet, three violins and a cornet.

The music of the mass was that of Leonard and was of exceptional beauty.

The mass was followed by the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament given by the Very Rev. Herman Seidel and the other priests participating. The services of the day were then closed by the singing of the hymn of the Holy Name society, "Holy God We Praise Thy Name."

Entertainers Visitors.
The services of the day over, Rev. Sebastian Ippolito, the pastor, entertained at dinner in the parish home adjoining the church, the visiting priests. Covers were laid for ten.

The new parish church just dedicated was made possible through the untiring efforts of the pastor and various assisting committees of the church.

Among the committees assisting was the church committee: Antonio Izzo, secretary, who has been a member of the church committee since the inception of the parish in 1912; Michael DeVivo, Nicholas Mastrotro, Louis Colella, Ralph Cipri, Dominick Anthony Malillo, Henry Dattilo, Frank Dominick, Frank Iohis cell. He also seemed to be in good spirits and was hopeful of favorable action by the pardon board.

LINE DRAWN FOR TEST OF STRENGTH IN HOUSE TONIGHT

votes had been taken as the result of moves by the anti-administration forces.

One move was in the form of a motion to send the resolution committee, the other provided for the measures being made a special order of business on the following week's calendar. Pinchot-Grundy forces in the House were able to beat both moves and finally win passage of the resolution itself.

The motion to send the Moore resolution to committee was made by Rep. Talbot, Delaware County, Colleague of Mr. Turner.

Opposition Appears

Tonight, an anti-administration resolution will appear in the House for the first time this year. It is considered possible that the Pinchot-Grundy forces may reverse the tactics of the anti-administration forces two weeks ago and move that the Turner resolution be sent to some committee for pickling purposes.

This move, it has been pointed out, would not necessarily develop the strength of the anti-administration but at the same time it would bring about the result the administration would hope to attain on a record vote on the measure itself.

Anti-administration leaders are hopeful of snatching control of the House this week and a vote on sending the Turner resolution to committee for "further study" would have a tendency to keep the full strength of the Anti's in the dark, at the same time permitting the administration to make a check-up which would disclose whether there has been any weakening in the lines.

Reports from sources close to the administration today are that the administration lines are sufficiently strong to defeat the Turner measure with ease if a decision is made during the day not to make an attempt to pickle it.

Pure Water Bill

Anti-Pinchot-Grundy forces in the House, in the event of defeat tonight, have already placed themselves in position for another advance against the administration lines. The Post bill designed to preserve and improve the purity of the waters of the commonwealth and one of the most drastic bills of its kind to appear in the legislature will be on the first reading calendar in the House tonight. It will probably be on the second reading calendar tomorrow and then re-committed for a hearing.

Anti-administration forces realize that the provisions against pollution of streams are drastic and would seriously affect industry in which former Senator Grundy is interested generally.

Governor Pinchot is pledged to a platform concerning stream pollution and the Anti's are hopeful that the Post bill will serve as a wedge to break up the Pinchot-Grundy alliance and thus allow them to strengthen their lines and grab control of the lower branch of the assembly, a move, which if successful, would put the entire legislature in control of Anti-administration forces.

Four other bills including that creating a commission to examine and report on the spring waters at Bedford Springs are on the House first reading calendar tonight. The second reading calendar has nine bills and six other bills will be called for final passage. Among the latter is the Way bill making a deficiency appropriation of $525,000 to the Department of Forest and Waters for the payment of persons who engaged in fighting forest fires during last summer's serious drought.

Pastor May Come
It is understood that Rev. Teagardner of Elm Grove, West Virginia, is coming to see Glenn Dague this week. Dague was formerly a Sunday school teacher in the Methodist church of which Rev. Teagardner was the pastor.

Dague does a great deal of reading, according to Sheriff Frank Johnston. Magazines, newspapers and books form the bulk of his reading matter. Some of the books are religious and some are story books. He finds that reading takes his mind from his troubles.

On the other hand, Irene does very little reading, seemingly not taking very much interest in this diversion. She finds her principal entertainment in talking with other female prisoners in the jail.

Irene's Birthday.

Tomorrow will be a momentous occasion in the life of Irene Schroeder.

It will mark a great crisis in her life, for on Tuesday, February 17, the day her attorneys, Thomas W. Dickey and Ben Jarrett, the later of Mercer county, leave to present their final appeal before the pardon board at Harrisburg, she will be 22 years of age.

Attorneys Dickey and Jarrett are completing final arrangements for their journey to Harrisburg today, and tomorrow morning they will leave to make the last appeal in behalf of Irene and her companion in crime, W. Glenn Dague.

They will stop off in Johnstown, where they will hold a conference with Attorney Percy Allen Rose, who has been retained by Mrs. Ella J. Mounts to assist in the prosecution of the claim of Irene and Glenn for a commutation of sentence.

Plea On Wednesday.

The plea of the doomed pair through their attorneys, will be heard by the pardon board on Wednesday, February 18.

Tomorrow may be the last birthday that Irene will ever celebrate, and naturally it will be one of the quietest, for she and Glenn are under death watch in the Lawrence county jail, from whence they may soon be removed to Rockview penitentiary.

Papers for the appeal of the pair for commutation of sentence are now in the hands of Attorney Rose of Johnstown, who is studying them, and he will join the two lawyers in their plea in Harrisburg Wednesday.

No new claims will be advanced. Attorney Dickey stated this morning, other than those previously announced. There seems to be but a dim ray of hope for the doomed pair. The appeal to be made Wednesday is their last resort, and if the pardon board refuses clemency their electrocution will speedily follow.

Appeal for a new trial, following their conviction last spring, was refused by the Lawrence county court, and the decision was confirmed by the supreme court.

Three To Be Executed.

(International News Service)
BELLEFONTE, Pa., Feb. 16.—Officially disregarding possibility of action by the state pardon board until its meeting on Wednesday and Thursday of this week, authorities at Rockview prison here have made arrangements for the execution sometime next Monday of Irene Schroeder and W. Glenn Dague, sentenced to death in the Lawrence county courts for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul of the state highway patrol.

Both the blonde girl and her paramour, who have battled the death verdict through the courts of the state, have applications for a commutation of sentence before the pardon board. The board will pass on the applications when it meets at Harrisburg this week.

But if the pardons body turns down the pleas of Schroeder and Dague for mercy, prison officials here will be ready to carry out the death warrants.

Under plans made to date, it was stated at the deputy warden's office of the prison today, the convicted pair will be brought here from New Castle sometime Sunday night. The hour of their departure from New Castle and probable arrival

If You're Losing Health Here's Good Advice

One man we know had lost a lot of weight. He felt all run down and out of sorts. His precious health was slipping away from him. So his doctor told him he'd have to take cod liver oil. But the poor fellow couldn't take cod liver oil. The nasty taste was just too much for him.

Then one night he discovered a little article in his evening paper. It told him that McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets give all the benefits of the finest liquid cod liver oil. All the vitamins, all the healthful benefits are put into this tiny tasteless tablet form. He read that Good Housekeeping Institute had tested these tablets and given them its seal of approval.

This pale and sickly man got a box of McCoy's. And what a change it made in him! He's got a new grip on life now. His health is normal. He's full of pep and vigor. What McCoy's have done for him they'll do for you. So get your box today, 60 tablets—60 cents.

A Few of the Complaints You Hear Pertaining to Ills Human Nature Is Afflicted With

It's my nerves...

I cannot sleep. Least noise startles me. I lay awake for hours. I feel as tired in the morning as I did when I retired.

Oh! It's my blood

I have no strength; am losing weight every day. Food I eat does not appear to give me strength.

--Why, It's my liver

I get severe pains in my side. My complexion is quite sallow and I feel so tired and languid.

They say it's my kidneys

I have such pains in my back at times I can hardly endure them. Get dizzy spells, almost fall over.

Oh, it's heart trouble

Why, at times my heart beats so rapidly, I feel quite alarmed. I get so short of breath, and the least bit of excitement I feel like falling over.

These are a few of the daily complaints that we hear, when as a matter of fact most of the imaginary diseases rise from a disordered stomach. Purify your blood, strengthen your nerves, help nature to perform its duty, with the aid of Nu-Erb, which contains twelve different herbs, roots, barks and leaves. Every one is a tonic within itself. Nu-Erb increases your blood supply, strengthens your nerves, regulates the liver and bowels, causes new life to be infused into your general system. WHY? Because Nu-Erb aids digestion, removes the cause and you gain strength from the food you eat. You can get what your appetite craves, and enjoy it, after taking Nu-Erb.

Eckerd's Cut Rate Store, is the only place in New Castle where Nu-Erb may be purchased. Go see the Nu-Erb man now located there and let him explain to you the merits of this remarkable medicine.

Hot Mills Win Over Specialty

Rivals Battle It Out On Shelby Floor On Saturday Night

OFFICE TEAM IS AN EASY WINNER

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 16.—Making a last supreme effort in the last quarter the Hot Mills defeated the Specialty 29-23 Saturday evening in the Shelby auditorium. Also the Office tripped the Mechanicals 37-23 in the second game. This double header inaugurated the second round of the Shelby league, which will determine the team to play the Specialty, first half winners, for the championship of the season. Should the Specialty come out on top again the three game series for the play-off will not be necessary. They will be the undisputed winners of the league cup.

The Hot Mills had no intention of permitting their old rivals, Specialty, to win the second half also. They had come out on the floor with determination to prevent this and avenge the playoff defeat suffered at their hands. This especially was evident in the first quarter when the Hot Mills had taken a commanding lead of 10-4. In the next period Specialty had become more dangerous as they deadlocked the game at 11 all by the end of the half.

Then after resuming rivalries in the third quarter neither team managed to obtain a commanding lead. These last two periods were close and exciting—featuring with many spectacular shots. Until the last few minutes neither team could get ahead more than two points. The score at the end of the third quarter was 13-19 for the Hot Mills. The final stanza was featured with the splendid teamwork of the Hot Mills which decided the issue. They had outscored their opponents 9-4 and took the game.

The splendid work of Freidhoff, Ursu and MacDonald was an important factor in the Hot Mills victory. This trio had figured in that memorable last quarter. Boone and Lattiano were the outstanding performers for the losers. This gives the Hot Mills three wins and the Specialty two against each other.

In the second game prospects for a Mechanical victory over the Office for the second time was very encouraging. Their lineup was strengthened with the addition of Stasick at guard seemed to function more smoothly. They held the Office to a 7-6 score in the initial period and had controlled the situation at half-way by a 16-12 score, with Boyle and Ferucci taking the scoring rolls. The Office had injected "Johnson into the fray and had taken a surprising offense which netted them 16 points to 2 for the opponents which gave them a 28-18 lead at the end of the third quarter. Johnson had accredited himself with five baskets. Just in this one period and reminded his rivals that he was still in the game by sinking two more in the closing stanza. The Mechanicals were outscored again in the fourth quarter 9-5 and the contest closed with a 37-23 victory for the Office.

Johnson had starred for the victors while Boyle and Ferucci were the best bets for the losers. The result of these two games leave the Hot Mills and Office tied for honors in the second half. This was the same condition at the opening of the league, and will be decided Tuesday when the Office will meet the Specialty and Hot Mills the Mechanicals.

Negro May Die; Shot Five Times

Alleged Assailant Of Koppel Man Arrested In Ellwood City

SHOOTING AFFRAY IN KOPPEL, SUNDAY

ELLWOOD CITY Feb. 16.—A Koppel negro is near death in Ellwood City hospital with five bullet wounds and an Ellwood City negro, the alleged assailant is being held by Beaver county authorities, following a gunplay episode in a Koppel garage Sunday evening. A third negro is being sought as a participant in an argument with the man who fired the shots.

The wounded man is Roosevelt Bailey, about 35, negro of Koppel. He was shot five times in the chest, abdomen and legs. Ellwood City hospital reported today his condition is uncertain.

Grover Spencer, 24, of West End, Ellwood City was arrested by Ellwood City police a short time after the shooting when he alighted from a train from Koppel. He is being held by Beaver county authorities to await the outcome of Bailey's injuries.

According to witnesses and police reports the affray took place early Sunday evening in the garage of Paul Lewis, on Second avenue, Koppel.

Spencer and another negro both reported to have been under the influence of liquor, were having an argument. Roosevelt Bailey is alleged to have "butted in" the argument and also to have pulled a gun. Spencer, according to Chief of Police Morrison of Ellwood City, grasped the gun from Bailey's hands and attacked its owner, first by slugging him on the head and then by firing the five shots.

Bailey slumped to the ground and Spencer and the other negro in the argument escaped.

Bailey was rushed to the hospital where an emergency operation was performed Sunday evening.

Ellwood City police authorities were notified by Koppel police to aid in the arrest of Spencer, who was reported to have hopped a train out of Koppel in the direction of Ellwood City. Ellwood City police succeeded in nabbing the negro two hours later when he arrived in the city. Authorities are searching for the other negro who had the argument with Spencer when Bailey pulled the gun.

Ellwood Hopeful Of Taking Game

Will Play New Castle High At New Castle On Tuesday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 16.—The Ellwood City High School basketball team will invade New Castle Tuesday night for a return battle with the Bridenbaugh machine. The local players aspire to wipe out the previous defeat suffered at their hands in "Ellwood. Not faring so will with Butler nothing would give them more satisfaction than to nose out the red and black warriors on their home floor.

The Ellwood boys feel that they are about due for a victory and it might as well be their old rivals. Coach Ingie put his proteges through a snappy workout Saturday morning and another short one was scheduled for this afternoon in the Lincoln gymnasium.

With the passing of Wario, Rowe and Muley from the red and black lineup local boys expect to make a much better showing than previously.

Ellwood Man Figures In Two Collisions On Sunday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 16.—Anton Pawal, of Highland Ave. Ellwood City, while driving his sedan up Wampum Avenue, towards Ellwood swerved to the wrong side of the road and considerably wrecked the car belonging to R. P. McKee who was traveling towards Wampum about 6:30 Sunday evening. Pawal did not stop his car and continued across the Fifth street bridge it is stated. He also struck a car parked between Spring Avenue and Fountain Avenue on Fifth street.

The car was an Oldsmobile coupe. Both cars were considerably damaged and Pawal and his wife were taken to the Ellwood City hospital where their injuries were taken care of. Both are reported seriously injured.

Boy Scouts Close Week's Program

Scouts Go On Hike On Saturday As Conclusion Of 21st Anniversary

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 16.—The Ellwood City boy scouts closed the observance of the 21st anniversary week Saturday when great numbers went in a body for a hike through the forests. Saturday is what was called "Out Door Day for Scouts."

The boy scouts under charge of several scoutmasters went on an all day sojourn through the surrounding forests. They held picnics in which all food was prepared and cooked by themselves. Then several games were played, stories were told, and some pathfinding experiments completed.

They returned late in the evening and were glad to accept sleep to rest their weary limbs after a day like that.

CHANNEL MARKERS

IN THE earlier days of this country, spending the family budget used to be a hazardous business. It was only by harsh experience that a householder learned to steer clear of bad bargains and come into port with his money's worth.

There were snags and shoals aplenty. Inferior goods and unscrupulous merchandising methods made the channel dangerous. "Let the buyer beware" was an accepted slogan of trade.

Fortunately for millions of consumers, this condition has wholly changed in more recent years. The channel has been charted. Today advertised, trademarked goods of known value are for sale in every city and hamlet. The buyer knows he can trust such products. He reads the advertisements in his paper, chooses the commodities he needs, and makes his purchases with the knowledge that he will get full value for his outlay.

The advertising columns of this newspaper point the way to satisfaction. If you make it a habit to read them daily you will save money, and save time.

What Would You Think of a Neighbor Who Kept Your Lawn Mower Most of the Time

Merely knowing that you are going to get it some time isn't much consolation when your lawn needs mowing. Future promises do not answer present needs.

It's the same with money as with mowers. The expectation of receiving it some time is of small utility when it is needed to meet pressing obligations.

Withholding funds from the man you owe makes his ledger look like a lawn that needs mowing.

Cangey Battles Duris Tonight

Ex-Champion Johnny Kilbane To Handle Johnstown Boy Here

FIRST OF FIVE BOUTS STARTS AT 8:15 P. M.

Johnny Kilbane, former featherweight champion of the world, will be in the corner of Mickey Duris when the Johnstown lightweight tackles Paris Kid Cangey, of New Castle in a bout listed for 10 rounds at Castle bowl tonight.

Kilbane and Jimmy Dunn manage Duris and as Dunn will not be here the former champion decided to give Duris some of the advice he used when he went out to win the then 122 pound championship of the world.

Mickey worked out yesterday at Bob Latera's gymnasium and Cangey finished up his strenuous work at Jimmy Dime's gymnasium. Both are in condition and each is anxious to win by a knockout.

It will be a battle of punches. Duris has won 15 of 27 fights with a kayo. He has not been stopped and has only lost one decision since he started boxing. He is called the Durable Slay around Johnstown and Pittsburgh.

Punchers on Card

All of the local fans are cognizant of Cangey's ability. He has beaten some of the best boys in his class. He wields a terrific punch and always sets the pace and hopes to win. Jimmy Dime will handle Cangey against Duris.

Joe Midway and Frankie Frey will clash in the semifinal. They are middleweights and are in uptight condition. Frey believes he is capable of flattening the conqueror of Nick Adamo but Midway declares he will win.

Jimmy Dime has secured Jim Dwyer to handle Midway against Frey inasmuch as Frey formerly fought under Dwyer's banner, leaped away to the camp of Battling Terry which didn't suit Dwyer.

As a result he will go into Midway's corner. "This won't make a particle of difference to Frey," said Battling Terry, manager of Frey last night. "It will only incite Frey to turn the trick quicker."

There will be three four round battles as follows: Johnny Banko vs Billy Frenzel; Buz Hardy vs Young Marchini and Ray Ritchie will take on Young DiMuccio. Everyone of the "short bout" battles are in the pink of condition.

The bouts will start at 8:15 p. m.

Sharkey-Carnera Bout Is Looming

Indications Point To Sharkey-Carnera Bout For Championship

By HYPE IGIOE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—It is my humble guess that New York is going to have a Sharkey and Carnera fight for the heavyweight "title" this summer.

It is such a good guess that when I chided Jim Farley about it the other day at the commission office, he didn't say it was a bad guess.

The board must get from under, as it were. They must make amends for apparently driving the other world's title bout to Chicago, Milpitas, Turkey Corners, Mexico or some other palace.

There can be but one "out" for Farley and his associates. They are standing pat on a proposition in which they think they are dead right. They wanted Schmeling to fight Sharkey after the German had promised to do so and when he refused, they grated him. Of course that means a lot of money gone astray from business and hotel people and in order to check that, it is my notion, Farley is going to reinstate Carnera and put him into one of the ball parks this summer.

If they place Carnera in good standing and put on this bout it will be a blow aimed at the Stribling and Schmeling bout. The three fathers never will forgive Max for refusing to take on Sharkey and nothing would please them better than to put on a New York championship bout in the same week that Max and Billy are apt to fight for that outside-of-New York title.

SPYING ON SPORTS

By WILLIAM RITT

Central Press Sports Editor

The news that Jack Johnson one-time ebony monarch of the heavies, is assaying another comeback is unimportant, save that it probably sets a new world's record for comeback attempts.

This is about the fifteenth or sixteenth time that the ex-Galveston, Tex., stevedore has re-entered the ring business as an active mauler.

Johnson's latest return to the resined battleground, at the age of 58, is undoubtedly the result of his unpounded lack of enthusiasm for current heavyweights. Johnson thinks most of the scrappers of today are just punks. But 53 is no age at which to try to prove that theory by personal activity.

Old Jack is regarded by some as the greatest of heavyweights, but the fact remains that he strutted his best stuff at a time when the heavyweight talent was far inferior even to the current brand.

Johnson began battling as far back as 1899 when he was 21, and lost his first battle in five rounds. That was 32 years ago. And here he is today trying to get somewhere with no more chance than Wilbert Robinson would have if he tried to beat out young Al Lopez for the catching job with his own ball club. Johnson's last real fight was in 1924 when he defeated Homer Smith, another die hard. In all, up to that time he had battled about 100 times, winning over such talent as Jim Jeffries, Bob Fitzsimmons, Tommy Burns, Marvin Hart, Sam McVey, Joe Jeannette, Sam Langford, Stanley Ketchel and Frank Moran.

The big smoke warred all over the world, doing his stuff in such spots as Canada, England, Australia, France, Spain, Mexico and Cuba, where Jess Willard copped his title.

Physically, Johnson in 1915 following his defeat had as good if not a better chance to win back the crown than any heavyweight champion before or since has it.

Sullivan, Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Jeffries, Burns, Willard and Dempsey, other champions who tried to return, were all too far past their prime. Johnson was 35, still agile and strong.

Circumstances barred him under federal ban and fearing the hoose-gow, Jack had to remain outside the States. And then there was the general antipathy to seeing the crown atop a dusky head again. The cards were stacked against Jack's hopes.

In between his come-back attempts Johnson has tried all sorts of occupations. The restless spirit which catapulted him from the Galveston docks to the top of the fist-cup heap has prevented him from settling down at some lowly but steady job.

Recently Johnson tried his hand at managing young fighters, and he had plenty of luck, but it was all bad. Then he got a job leading an orchestra, though what in 30 years of it and cut fighting fitted him for this post is hard to understand.

Now he is trying to earn a living at that which he knows best, fighting.

New Castle Quint Plays Ellwood City At High Gym Tuesday

Two Bitter Rivals To Clash In Important Section Three Contest

Having toppled another hurdle on Saturday night when the New Castle high passers disposed of Evans City in an easy manner, the local section three league leaders will stage their lone practice this afternoon at senior high gymnasium in preparation for Tuesday evening when Coach Phil Bridenbaugh sends his title hopes against Ellwood City high at senior high floor. The contest is carded for 8:15 o'clock.

The New Castle-Ellwood City game is an important one and will be watched with interest throughout this section, especially by Butler high who trail the senior high boys in the section battle.

A victory for New Castle will insure it of a trip to Pitt stadium later on while a defeat will mean that when New Castle plays Butler Friday at Butler the contest will give the winners the section three title. So figure it out for yourself. If the locals top Ellwood City and then turn around and lose to Butler, a play off between New Castle and Butler will be essential to determine the cream of section three.

The preliminary contest will be played by New Castle and Ellwood City high girls teams. In the last meeting between the two girls' combinations, Ellwood City emerged on the winning end in the last quarter in a fast game full of thrills. Another thriller is looked for when these two teams meet.

Most of the big fortunes are in bonds industry and litigation.—The Ashland (Ky.) Daily Independent.

EVEN BARBERS HAVE FEELINGS

New Castle Hands Evans City Cagers 40-8 Defeat Saturday

Coach Bridenbaugh's Unde-feated Passers Show Improvement In Fifteenth Victory

EVANS CITY PROVES EASY FOR NEW CASTLE

EVANS CITY, Feb. 16.—Playing a much better brand of basketball than they have demonstrated in the past two games, the undefeated New Castle high school passers handed the Evans City high cagers one of the most severe defeats of the season on Saturday night at Evans City. The final score favored the Tin City cagers 40-8.

New Castle's defensive and offensive power proved too much for the Evans City lads. The opening period saw the Coach Bridenbaugh machine acquire a 6 point lead. The first quarter ended, 7-1. Evans City looked good in the opening session and it was evident that if the Evans City five would play the same brand of ball during the remainder of the game, the contest would be an interesting one to watch.

In the second quarter the New Castle team opened up with an attack that had the Evans City boys "lost". The Tin City boys in the second period rallied tallied 20 points before the whistle blew. The half ended with New Castle on top 27-3. Evans City could do nothing with the attack presented by their opponents.

In the third quarter the Red and Black machine piled up more points that clinched the eighth straight victory in Section Three. Evans City tried hard to halt the march of their opponents but their attempts proved futile. The third quarter ended with New Castle leading 38-7.

Most of the substitutes on the New Castle bench saw action in the final frame. Evans City held the Castles to two markers in the final period while they were only able to secure but one which brought their totals up to 8 for the evening while New Castle had tallied the large sum of 40 points. The final score, New Castle 40; Evans City 8.

Reiber In Debut

The showing made by New Castle on Saturday demonstrated that the hard work on the part of Coach Phil Bridenbaugh last week in finding the weak spots on his team helped considerably. A youngster who made his debut as a New Castle cager was Reiber who played formerly with George Washington Junior high team. Reiber in his first game made an impressive showing. He tallied three times from the field and played a whale of a game at guard.

The two Uram lads, John and Nick were the outstanding players for New Castle. Johnny the younger scored six field goals while Nick came through with four. Shaffer, and Lasky played their customary good games. For Evans City the playing of Kennedy was the best.

Butler Watches

New Castle plays its hardest games of the second half of the Section Three race this week, meeting Ellwood City here on Tuesday night and Butler high on Friday night at Butler. Among the spectators at Evans City were the Butler high cagers and their coach. The game next Friday will probably mean the championship of Section Three for New Castle and a deadlock for Butler should they win.

The summary of the game follows:

New Castle 40 Evans City 8

J. Uram 10 Porter Shaffer 10 Kennedy Lasky 10 Denbow N. Uram 10 Myers Reiber 10 Lutz

Score by periods:

New Castle 7 20 11 2-40

Evans City 1 2 4 1-8

Substitutions—New Castle, Winter for J. Uram, Teplica for Winter, Ostrosky for Shaffer, Marvin for Lasky, Cooper for Reiber, W. Grommes for Porter; Evans City—Ripper for Porter, McMillen for Denbow, Launderer for McMillen.

Field Goals—J. Uram 6; Lasky 3; N. Uram 4; Reiber 3; Kennedy 1; Denbow 1.

Fouls—New Castle, 8 out of 15; Evans City, 4 out of 15.

Referee—Dalzell.

Timekeeper—Klee, Geneva.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Fight fans who journey to the Castle bowl tonight will see a former champion, Johnny Kilbane. He will take on Mickey Duris. Kilbane, it will be remembered is the chap who Jimmy Dunn piloted to the title when the weight was 122 pounds. Today the titular poundage is 125.

And after they see Kilbane they can look across and see Battling Terry. The Battler fought Kilbane in the old Coliseum a decade ago. In fact it was Kilbane's second fight and Terry's first. Previous, Kilbane boxed Young Zahnsner. After these two bouts Kilbane determined to see the championship.

He hued the task and accomplished his purpose. Recently he determined to re-enter the boxing game and tied up with Jimmy Dunn and is now a co-trainer. Battling Terry, Johnny has been putting a lot of time in with Mickey Duris and it looks as though Mr. Paris Cangey will have plenty of trouble tonight.

They say that it may not be long until Kilbane begins a tour similar

Princeton And Yale Will Play In Final Game

First Time Since 1899 That Yale And Harvard Have Not Played Final Game

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Feb. 15.—Princeton has accepted Yale's invitation to inaugurate an alternating schedule in football, according to a statement today by John M. Cates, Yale director of athletics.

This fall, for the first time since 1899, the season will not be concluded against the crimson. The game with Princeton, newly scheduled for November 28, will close the campaign.

In 1932, Harvard will be Yale's final opponent, the blue campaign ending the Saturday before Thanksgiving.

Princeton was originally scheduled for November 14 this year, but this date is now left open.

Move Not Relished.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 16.—The Harvard Crimson does not relish the decision of Yale to rotate Princeton and Harvard in the final football game each year.

The crimson admits Yale's action is defensible, but declares it is not understandable. It states today that Harvard men do not like Yale's action. The crimson says:

"Abruptly reversing without explanation, a mutually pleasant tradition, the Yale athletic authorities have made a gesture unquestionably to be wondered at. Between friends reasons must be frankly stated. Yale is obliged to explain this action."

President Of Athletic Council Entertains Westminster Team At Mercer

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 16.—Attorney James A. Stranahan, president of the Westminster College athletic council, entertained the Westminster basketball squad, coach "Pops" Harrison, Graduate Manager Andy McDonald, President W. Charles Wallace, Dean Charles Freeman, and student managers, Saturday evening in Mercer.

In addition to this group, Judge J. A. McLaughry, Mercer; Attorney Roy Neville, Sharon; Thomas Sampson, Mercer; and John Wherry, Grove City were present.

Following an excellent dinner given by Attorney Stranahan, a social time was enjoyed by the group numbering almost 30. Last year Mr. Stranahan was host to the Titan court quint at a similar affair in his home at Mercer.

Running Records May Fall Tonight

Stars Of Country Will Compete Tonight In New York Athletic Club Event

RAY CONGER IS RANKING FAVORITE

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Some of the fanciest heel and toe fingers who ever slipped on a slipper will assault old man time tonight at Madison Square Garden and if they don't throw him over completely they may at least convince him his second hand got caught in a wringer.

The event is the annual games of the New York Athletic Club on such winners over the boards at Boston, Philadelphia, Newark and New York in the past ten days as Ray Conger, Sera Martin, Russell Chapman and Phil Edwards will continue the ever thrilling effort to make time and space as one.

Coger in Shape

Conger, who is at the peak of his career, this winter, will pour himself into perfect rhythm in the Baxter mile. The former midwest schoolmaster, now getting a super education at Columbia, has won twelve straight indoor mile races in the last three years and has yet to meet defeat in his present campaign.

There is no one to challenge Conger tonight in his attempt to repeat his 1930 Baxter victory except George Bullwinkle, the slim New York collegian. This is Bullwinkle's first important mile effort since he won the Intercollegiate A. A. championship in four minutes 18 4-5 seconds at Harvard stadium last spring.

And Conger, strangely enough, is simply delighted to have Bullwinkle along tonight. In fact Conger believes that the New Yorker's fierce early pace will be just the thing to swing him into a stride that will beat the indoor mark of 4:12, held by Nurmi and Ray.

Gene Venke of the Swedish-American A. C. and Bill McKinnif of Penn. intercollegiate indoor mile champion, will also run in the mile. Venke has beaten 4:20 in his last three starts.

Martin To Race

Martin, the French invader, makes his third of four American starts in the Bremen 880, matching strides with Russell Ch. man, the Bates college ace. The New Englander beat Martin more than 20 yards in the Milrose 880 but since then the Frenchman, who neve saw boards until a few days ago, has more completely mastered indoor running.

Phil Edwards, intercollegiate half-mile record holder, may lift some eyebrows himself and steal the show from Martin and Chapman. Dr. Paul Martin, the celebrated Swiss movement, is also in the race and so are Carl Coan of Penn and Frank Nordel of New York University.

The Buernmyer 500 will call out Horace Whitney, Colgate's thriller; John Matroos, Syracuse; Eddie Blake, A. C. and Hitch Griffith, New York A. C.

Percy Beard, the marvel from Alabama, will be running and jumping in the 60-yard high hurdles and Ira Singer, Karl Wildermuth and Bill Bruder are listed with other stars in the 60-yard sprint.

George Spitz, New York collegian, holding a new high jump record of six feet 7 inches, will seek a still better mark and Fred Sturdy of Yale will shoot for something a little more fancy in the pole vault. He is trying to crack the 14 feet 2 inch mark.

Holy Cross, with Oakley, Holland, Morin and McAfferty, will battle Georgetown with Burke, Briggs, Carlin and Kelly in the feature relay race.

Westminster Meets Bethany Tonight At Bethany; Waynesburg Tilt Shifted

Shenango High Divides Games

Titans Will Have Better Chance Against Bisons

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 16.—A last-minute shift in plans sends Coach "Pops" Harrison and his Westminster college basketball team to Bethany, West Virginia, tonight where the miracle team of Bethany college will be met in the feature game of the Tri-State conference race.

As originally planned, the Titans were to play the rugged Waynesburg college team tonight and then to meet Bethany tomorrow. As the schedule is changed now, Waynesburg will be met some time later in the season.

Coach Harrison, Graduate Manager Andy McDonald, ten players, and student managers left here this morning at 9 o'clock for Pittsburgh. They will go to Washington, Pa., first, and will take a bus for Bethany after eating dinner tonight at the George Washington hotel.

The ten Titans who were taken on the trip include: Captain Phil Rice, guard; Harry Brontie, center; Marshall Fisher, guard; Bill Douglas, forward; Michael Kocher, forward; Al Bobby, forward; Ted Blauer, guard; Charles Arthur, center; Jim Hamas, forward; Danny Considine, forward, and Mauno Sijander, forward.

The fact that Westminster has only the Bethany game on this southern trip increases the possibilities of victory over the undefeated Bisons. Coach Knight's Bethany team has swept all before it, and the Bison scoring spree has given them the name of "the point-a-minute" team.

Westminster can win tonight's game if the Titans are in the best physical shape and if the men play the ball of which they are capable and which they have exhibited this season. But defeating Bethany on her home floor is considerable of an undertaking, and the Titans will have a busy evening.

On Saturday night Tietel will be on the home floor for a conference game with the Titans. Tietel almost upset the dope in the game played at Greenville, and will force Westminster to the limit.

Youngsters Are Ranked As Stars In Tennis World

U. S. Lawn Tennis Association Ranks Johnny Doe As Leader

OLD TIMERS ARE BEING REPLACED

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Youth today stands triumphant on the pinnacle of American tennis.

The 1930 ratings in the men's singles, released by the United States Lawn Tennis association at its annual meeting here Saturday, officially ushered in the new era that began last year when a new group of stars displaced the old standbys of the past decade.

The changes in the list of the ten leaders are the most revolutionary in the history of the game. Five young players replace as many veterans who, either because of turning profession or because of inability to withstand the challenge of youth have been forced out of the amateur limelight.

Doeg Ranks First.
Johnny Doe, the new "head man" of the sport, won the premier position on his own merits and not because of the ineligibility of Big Bill Tilden, who succumbed to the lure of professionalism recently after heading the amateur ranking since 1920. The ranking committee, which completed its selections several weeks before Big Bill turned pro, originally placed him in second position, one notch under the 1930 national champion.

The automatic elimination of the Philadelphia veteran simply meant that the other ranking stars moved up one place in the ranking.

Frank Shields, the New York boy who jumped all the way from 12th to second position, was the most improved player of the lot. Wilmer Allison, the tall Texan, advanced from seventh to third position. Sydney B. Wood of New York and Cliff Suter, the Tulane star from New Orleans, are striking examples of the new order of things in the world of tennis. Today they are ranked fourth and fifth, respectively. Previously neither held a national ranking.

New Gang in Saddle.
Gregory Mangin, the Newark, N. J. sensation, was raised from 10th to sixth place, and George Lott, the carefree Chicagoan, dropped from fourth to seventh position. John Van Ryn was another backslider, dropping from fifth to ninth. Ellsworth Vines, No. 8, and Bryant Grant, No. 10, are members of the new constellation.

Although Doe has been at or near the top for two years now, he was inconsistent last season and will have a fight on his hands this year. Shields, Wood and even Vines were touted as probable 1931 champions by various delegates at Saturday's meeting.

But no matter who wins this year's crown, a new gang is in the saddle. Skill, strategy, experience and coolness have given way to cannonading services, headlong charges to the net and tremendous smashes to the base lines.

While there will be plenty of competition in the men's singles, the 1931 women's singles will be just a walkover for the invincible Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, unranked last year because of inactivity in American tournaments. She has indicated that she will seek the crown this year and undoubtedly will sweep all before her. Mrs. Lawrence Harper, another Californian, simply got a break in being ranked No. 1 on Saturday.

Basketball Injury Is Fatal To Youth

Brookville, Pa., High School Basketball Player Dies Of Spinal Injury

(International News Service)

BROOKVILLE, Pa., Feb. 16.—Injury to a vertebra received during basketball practice today caused the death of Lloyd Corbett, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Corbett, physicians announced.

While practicing about two weeks ago, the youth was reported to have suddenly snapped his head back after completing a throw for basket. He later complained of headaches, his parents reported, and last week they removed him to a hospital in Pittsburgh.

Physicians there, the parents said, found the youth had sustained a cracked vertebra at the top of the spinal column. A cast was placed over the injured section, and the youth was allowed to return home, it was said.

Lloyd complained again of a headache last night, his parents said, and early this morning lapsed into unconsciousness. A short while later, the youth died, presumably of the spinal injury which, physicians believe, placed undue pressure on a section of the brain.

VALUABLE COAT REPORTED STOLEN

L. H. Thayer, 323 Lincoln avenue, reported Saturday evening that he had his machine parked in the rear of 117 North Mercer street, when some unknown person stole his black fur overcoat from the machine. The theft occurred between 7:30 and 9:30 p. m. It is size 37-38, bears the name of John Wanamaker and is valued at $100.

Four in a Row

Albert Robertson, Whitney second-string jockey, who is making an efficient job of pinch-hitting for the injured Sonny Workman. Robertson steered four winners past the post, out of five mounts, at Hialeah Park, Miami, Fla.

Dr. C. B. Wingerd Will Address Men

Thursday evening of this week Dr. Charles B. Wingerd, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, will address the men's class of the Mid-dlesex Presbyterian church of which Rev. Richard Holmes is pastor.

Two years ago, upon the organization of this class, Dr. Wingerd gave the address and the men most especially requested that he return at this time and speak to them again.

Beede Enjoyed Success As Titan Gridiron Coach

Thirteen Victories And Two Championships Mark Regime

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 16.—Announcement by Dwight V. "Dike" Beede, former Youngstown, O., South high and Carnegie Tech gridiron star that he will devote his time to his insurance business in Youngstown and will not be a candidate for re-election as head football coach at Westminster College, was one of the principal week end sports topics of the district.

Beede, after starring at fullback and captaining the team at Carnegie Tech, became head grid coach at Westminster in 1926. Since that time his teams have won 13 games, tied three, and lost 20 contests. Twice in the five-year period the Titan gridirons under Beede have tied for the Tri-State Conference championship. In the 1929 season the Blue and White tied with Waynesburg, while in the 1928 season Youngstown,

Union High Loses At Youngstown On Saturday Evening

Varsity Falls Before East High 33-13—Reserves Lose 33 To 16

The Union high varsity basketball team lost to East high, Youngstown, 33 to 13, in a game played Saturday night at Youngstown. The Union high reserves lost to the East high reserves 33 to 16.

The Boyd coached machine failed to function in the first half, being held scoreless. The East team was ahead 24 to 0 at the end of the half. Union outscored the East boys 13 to 9 in the final half of the battle. Hanna was the star with five baskets.

In the preliminary game the Union reserves were outclassed 33 to 16, being unable to cope with the fast attack of the Youngstown team. Phillips, Papanga and Clark led in the scoring.

Stove League Gossip

By Central Press

Discussion of the strange deal that saw Joe McCarthy out as manager of the Chicago Cubs and Rogers Hornsby in as his successor, seems to have as many lives as the proverbial alley cat. The topic just refuses to die.

There is a growing school of thought which believes that Joe was ousted because the club ownership figured the Rajah was rapidly losing his batting skill and therefore decided to cash in on Hornsby's managerial ability.

Another theory, not so widespread, is that McCarthy was eager to become the Yankees' manager, and that the Yanks were as eager to have him, following Miller Huggins' death. That, some say, is why Bob Shawkey was signed for but one year last season—to fill in until McCarthy would be available.

Whether either or neither theory is correct is unimportant in comparison with the question: who will win a pennant first, McCarthy or Hornsby?

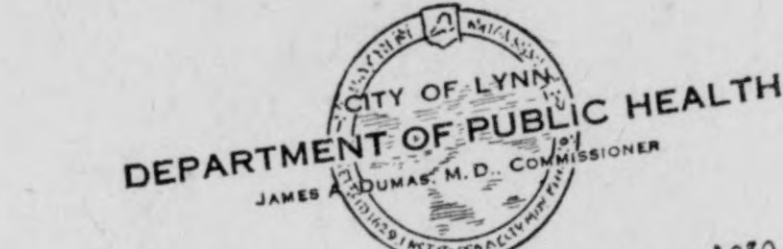

Their tasks are greatly similar. Both face very strong opposition. While the Yanks, inherited by Joe, were hardly a contender, McCarthy has been working desperately to add to the club's strength. Hornsby, on the other hand, has rearranged the Cub lineup so that, success or failure, he will be responsible for the team's showing.

Hornsby has worked overtime adding to the strength of the Cubs. He has taken on three new pitchers, Jake May, former Red, and

"I Am Gratified to See You Openly Using the Word 'Spit'"

Says

DR. JAMES A. DUMAS
Commissioner of Public Health, Lynn, Mass.

July 8, 1930.

American Cigar Company, 111 Fifth Avenue,
New York City.

Gentlemen:—

Spit is one of the words which we have learned to avoid in polite parlance. But in our distaste for the use of an unpleasant word, there is a likelihood of minimizing the dangers of contamination which this word connotes.

I am, therefore, gratified to see you openly using the word spit in your advertising of cigars.

The ever-present possibility of infection from heedless spitting habits is most vital in any consideration of health maintenance. You may, of course, publish this letter if it will help.

Yours very truly,

James A. Dumas, M.D.
Commissioner of Public Health

... one of 56 health officials from 56 different points approving Cremo's crusade against spit or spit-tipping.

Every smoker, every wife whose husband smokes cigars, should read Dr. Dumas' letter.

"Who are the friends of 'Spit'?"

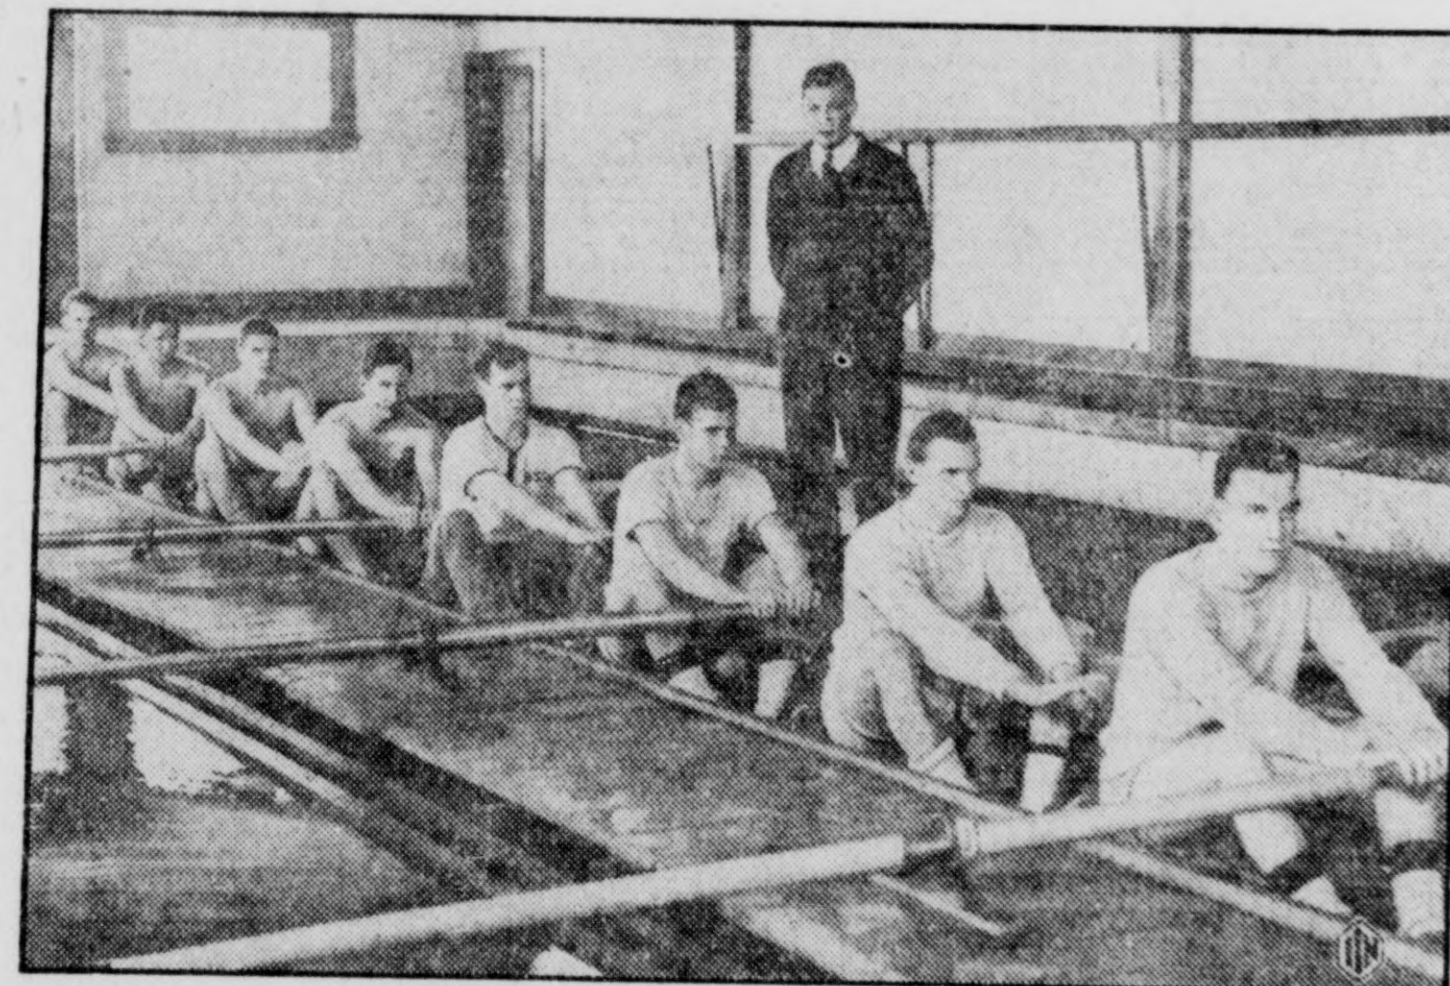

YOU MAY WELL ASK THIS QUESTION WHEN 56 IMPORTANT HEALTH OFFICIALS HAVE WRITTEN SO STRONGLY AGAINST THE EVILS OF SPIT OR SPIT-TIPPING.

Dr. Dumas writes: "The ever-present possibility of infection from heedless spitting habits is most vital in any consideration of health maintenance."

The war against spit is a crusade of decency. Join it... Smoke Certified Cremo—a really wonderful smoke—mild—mellow—nut-sweet! Every leaf entering the clean, sunny Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Crimson Crew in Workout

The Harvard University crew, upon which the hopes of the Crimson are pinned to bring home the bacon this coming season, is shown having a stiff workout under the tutelage of Coach Whiteside, in the indoor tank at the Newell Boathouse, Cambridge, Mass. There has never been such keen competition as there is this season among the big Varsity crews, and the oarsmen are training hard to acquire that slight edge that brings victory.

Lester Sweetland, former Phil, lefties, and Bob Smith, ex-Brave.

Hornsby is understood to be angling for Sunny Jim Bottomley to handle the first sack, succeeding Charley Grimm. If Rogers does get hold of the Card star, the Cubs will be set for the fight.

More Drivers Lose Licenses

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 16.—The state bureau of motor vehicles, during the week ending February 13, revoked the cards of 61 drivers suspended those of 76, and restored driving privileges to 46 motorists. Seventeen motorists in Philadelphia had their cards revoked and 17 were suspended, while driving privileges were restored to 16 there. In Pittsburgh, 6 drivers lost their cards, 6 were suspended and 3 were restored to driving privileges. Cards of three drivers in Wilkes-Barre and vicinity were revoked and three drivers in the same region had their privileges restored.

Employment In Pittsburgh Is Gaining Slowly

Resumption Of Operations In Many Industries Brings Relief

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 16.—Employment conditions in the Pittsburgh district have been generally improved as the result of the resumption of operations in many industries here. Francis I. Jones, director-general of the United States employment service of the department of labor announced today after a survey made at the close of January.

Many plants, he reported, have opened again after the usual year-end shutdowns for inventory purposes.

Moderate improvements and increased demand for products in the steel industry have given employment to large numbers of men in rolling mills, blast furnaces and other departments, Jones reported.

Employment in the coke industry in the Connellsville district has remained at a low level, Jones reported. Coal mining activity, however, he reported, has shown a slight activity along with some branches of the glass industry, especially in Westmoreland county.

Public improvements and emergency repair work have produced employment for large numbers of men, Jones announced, and a substantial program of new projects for the future will stabilize conditions in this district, he said.

He's had a hard enough time getting asleep as it is. Poor Howard Wortle! But the reason's plain. The mother-in-law arrived today from up State. For a three month's visit. And the Wortles never furnished their spare bed-room.

Mr. Wortle made a solemn vow that next morning he would read the Classified Ads; and from the many bargains offered there he would choose a bed-room suite.
